Inside Info

Dr. Ashok Vaswani, who heads the Medical Department's clinical program on osteoporosis, is also Associate Director, Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism, Department of Medicine, at Nassau Hospital. The residents there recently recognized Vaswani as an outstanding role model for the internist by honoring him as one of two "Attendings of the Year." The award honors physicians who have a broad intellectual background, a mastery of their chosen subspecialty, a wide base in general internal medicine and good interpersonal communicative ability.

Diners Note

The cafeteria will be closed on Saturday, November 13. On that day, snack bar service will be available from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Brookhaven Center.

Equipment Demo

Digital Equipment Corporation will give a seminar on its three recently announced additions to the personal computer marketplace—the Rainbow, DECmate 11, and Professional Series—on Wednesday, November 17 at 2 p.m. in the Instrumentation Conference Room, Building 535. Both demonstrations and a slide show will be presented.

WIS Meeting

Earl Blanton, new manager of the Affirmative Action Office, will speak on "An Employment Profile of Women and Minorities" at the Women in Science dinner meeting on Thursday, November 18, in the Chemistry Department's first floor Lunch Room.

Earl Blanton's 35 year career includes working as a minority representative with the California State Employment Service, Title VI Compliance Officer with the Department of Labor, Equal Opportuntiy Director of DOE's Region II and as an Equal Opportunity Director of Hoffman LaRoche Company. He obtained an M.B.A. from Pepperdine University in Malibu, California.

A hot buffet will be served and the cost is $7.50. Dinner will start at 5 p.m. and everyone is invited. Reservations are requested. Send a check, payable to BNL-WIS, to Ellen Gannon, Bldg. 801, Ext. 4513, before November 15.

Tea & Sherry Time

Got a knack for knitting? a yen to spin? a query about quilting? You'll have a chance to learn more about all these things next week, at the Hospitality Committee's Fall Tea and Sherry Party. The party, which will follow the theme "Arts and Crafts," will be held on Tuesday, November 16, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the Brookhaven Center.

In addition to knitting, spinning yarn and quilting (by hand and machine), craft demonstrations will include weaving, tatting (making lace by hand), crocheting and staining glass.

Tea, coffee and sherry will be served, along with a variety of homemade breads and an assortment of fresh vegetables and dips.

All women employees and wives of Laboratory employees and guests are invited. Babysitting will be provided free of charge in the gymnasium.

"The Politics of Black Stereotyping in American Popular Culture" will be the subject of a lecture and slide show to be presented by Marguerite Ross Barnett on Wednesday, November 17 at 8 p.m. in Berkner Hall. Dr. Barnett, a professor of political science at Columbia University, has been collecting examples of popular art that reflect black stereotyping. Her collection covers the period from the Civil War to the 1940's, and includes household utensils, toys, drawings and other memorabilia depicting blacks. In previous talks on this subject, Dr. Barnett has used these items to support her view that such stereotyping was an attempt on the part of the political culture to deny blacks equal status and rights. The lecture is sponsored by the Afro-American Culture Club and everyone is invited to attend.

Mort Rosen

The people in DNE's Nuclear Safety Programs Division in Bldg. 130 are pretty conscientious about recycling their computer paper. But they were not quite as conscientious about where they put it. The official dumping spot is next to the copier, but all too often building coordinator Joan Goetschius (above), found the paper stacked down the hall, perilously close to a heater. With safety in mind, Goetschius posted signs, directing her co-workers to the correct dumping spot. When her English instructions made little impression, she asked someone to make a sign in Farsi (Iranian). After that, she didn't have to ask. The signs came pouring in voluntarily. "They represent every language in the building," Goetschius said, "and after all the signs were up we just had to name it the International Paper Dump." The signs have helped considerably to keep the paper in its place. In case you can't read them all, the languages represented are (bottom row, from left) German, Portuguese, Ukranian, Hindi, Bengali, Chinese; (second row, from left) Korean, Algerian, Spanish, Farsi and Russian, Italian; (third row, from left) English, Hungarian, Japanese, Greek; (top row, at right) Hebrew, and unknown (someone put up the latter sign without identifying it!).

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Thursday, November 18 is World Hunger Day. Please join the Fast for a World Harvest. Go without eating for just one day and donate your food money to Oxfam America. Even a small donation can make a big difference. Donations may be sent to me at Bldg. 318, or, for further information, call me on Ext. 2256.

Placement Notices

The Laboratory's placement policy is to select the best-qualified candidate for an available position, with consideration given to candidates in the following order of priority: (1) present employees within the department, with preference to those within the immediate work group; (2) present employees within the Laboratory as a whole; and (3) outside applicants. In keeping with the Affirmative Action plan, selection decisions are made without regard to age, race, color, religion, national origin, sex, handicap or veteran status.

Each week, the Personnel Office lists new personnel placement requisitions. The purpose of these listings is, first, to provide open placement information on all non-scientific staff positions; second, to give employees an opportunity to request consideration for themselves through Personnel; and, finally, for general recruiting purposes. Because of the priority preference policy stated above, each listing does not necessarily represent an opportunity for all candidates. As a guide to readers, the listings are grouped according to the anticipated area of recruitment.

Except when operational needs require otherwise, positions will remain open for one week following publication date.

For further information regarding a placement listing, contact the Personnel Placement Supervisor, Ext. 2882.

The vacancies listed below have been exempted by the Director's Office from the current freeze on open requisitions.
