BERA Concert Series

The Stellar Consort will present a free concert at Brookhaven National Laboratory on Sunday, April 8, at 8 p.m. in Berkner Hall.

For those who did not hear this group at their appearance last spring, the Stellar Consort was founded in 1970 with the aim of promoting music of the Renaissance. The impetus was provided by two members who had engaged in similar activities in Germany and England. The other members have performed with the Gregg Smith Singers and other local groups. Although the emphasis is on vocal a cappella music, the Stellar Consort also presents some instrumental music of the period. The group is heard mostly in the Stony Brook area.

The BNL concert will feature a major work, Sestina, by Monteverdi and music by Purcell, Handel, Palestrina and others.

Date: Sunday, April 8
Time: 8 p.m. (Note change!)
Place: Berkner Hall
Admission: Free; donations welcome.

Basketball Playoff

The championship playoff game in the University League, between AMD and the Stealers, was a close, hard fought contest with the Stealers coming out on top, 29-26. Both teams, playing with key players, were hard pressed to score points. AMD managed to keep highscoring Larry Johnson in check in the first half, but Bob Barone, an early season AMD castoff, picked up the slack as he scored 9 points in the first half to keep the Stealers out in front.

In the second half Johnson began to shake loose as the close guarding by AMD began to take its toll. AMD had one man foul out and two more played most of the second half with four fouls. With Johnson now scoring and Dick Schonberg doing excellent board work, AMD began to rush their game just a bit. This hurt them, as they began to take shots further out than their normal range. Al Smith and Gary Larsen did most of AMD's scoring, but it just was not quite enough.

Congratulations to both teams for an exciting and well-played game.

In the consolation game between Tandem and the Associated League All-Stars, one would think a championship title were at stake. Both squads played hard and with great enthusiasm. The All-Stars prevailed 46 to 43 to blemish Tandem's perfect season. Fouls hurt Tandem as the contest was closely called. All-everything-guard, Jim Garrison, sat out most of the second half with four fouls.

The All-Stars would just not be denied as they played good team ball and displayed great determination to snuff out any rally Tandem could muster.

The League would like to express its appreciation to the All-Stars who played in the game, to Howie Bell for running the concession stand, and to all members of the Basketball League for another fine season.

Camera Club

There will be a meeting of the Camera Club at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 5 in the Recreation Building in the Apartment area. Walter Geisbusch will give a demonstration of portraiture. Facilities will be set up to permit members to use them over the following weekend.

There will also be a brief discussion of the annual spring exhibit to be held in June.

Bowling News

Grace Fales

Green League

A new high team series was set this week by the Five Welders - 3105. A large asset to that score was C. Spence with his 238/212/610 scratch, 706 gross series, winning his Club Awards. Other 200's were bowled by L. Jacobson 224, R. Taylor 207, M. Bull 203, and E. Meier 201. The Bubble Boys moved out ahead of the second place Sandbaggers by 7 points.

Red League

The Old Timers took the high team series away from the Neutrons (3166), with a sparkling 3178. R. Nelson led the way with his 254/634 scratch series, followed by R. Adams 232, W. Reams 221, and G. McGovern 212. Other high games and series were: C. Buzzeo 213/230/625, J. Baer 232/215/607, N. Carter 210, R. Larsen 207, F. Hohmann 205, and R. Vignato 200.

Pink League

Honorable mention this week to: Doris Pion, Ruth Petit (Fiscal Assets), Irma Montanez, Fran Green (Medi-Tarsals), and to each member of the Alley Oops. All these gals bowled very well. Other outstanding highs were: Brita McGonigle 160, Beverly Nine 162, Frances Scesny 167, Marge Stoeckel 170/470, Grace Fales 171/495, Ellie Murgatroyd 172, Pat Oster 179/481, Kay Trautwein 180/494, and Helen Caisey with a new high scratch series for the league, 193/531. The Pinsplitters are still in first by 6 points. The Alley Oops and Fiscal Assets are the new challengers this week.

Correction: The series listed for Helen Caisey last week should have been 484, not 448.

Black & Blue League

The Caisey Cats continue to hold on to first place, with the AR's right behind. High games for 3/21: Lew Jacobson 203/233/629, George Morgan 213, Bill Lebitski 210, Tome Jesaitis 201, Ralph Taylor 200. Difficult splits were converted by Lois Kreisberg 4-5-10, and Ellen Jacobson 4-7-10.

Battle of the Sexes

On March 10 at Port Jeff Bowl, two bowling teams represented BNL in the mail-o-graphic National Industrial Recreation Association Tournament. Participants were: Audrey Bangel, Marie Brenner, Kit D'Ambrosio, Helen Caisey, Mona Vitale, Nate Carter, Richie Larson, Ralph Nelson, Jim Petro and Bill Kristiansen. Mona and Richie bowled very well with scratch series of 511 and 538, respectively. Team scores (based on 75% handicap for the tournament) were 2542 for the ladies and 2856 for the men.

Much to the chagrin of the men, the ladies team trounced them by 60 pins in the first game (based on 80% league handicap). The second game was even worse for the men when they tried harder and found themselves beaten again by six pins. This brought on a few verbal threats of various kinds, but the ladies continued to calmly sip their beers. At the beginning of the third game, someone threatened to place a few obscene phone calls to the gals - only to find himself deluged with hurriedly written phone numbers, and a counter offer of "call collect." As the hilarity continued, and the beer ran out, the ladies found themselves a bit behind in the third game as the men got several strikes together for a few frames. They had to strike to make up for Richie Larson's gutter ball and several splits here and there by the rest of the team. Alas, the women were beaten in the third game by a mere 11 pins. The gals claim that they could only concentrate on one thing at a time, and bowling somehow got lost in the shuffle. However, the women were consoled by the fact that they beat the men in total wood by 55 pins.

Needless to say, a good time was had by all - even the audience, and we hope to have more participants next year for the NIRA tournament.

Emergency Drill

A simulated transportation accident involving radioactive materials, was staged last Friday for and by the participants in the Third Regional Seminar on Emergency Planning. Rita Straub, Medical, (center) imparted a sense of urgency and drama by her portrayal of a hysterical bystander concerned about massive radioactive contamination. Other roles were played by those involved including police, firemen, health physicists, truck drivers and writers. The exercise was coordinated by Nat Greenhouse of BNL and Michael S. Terpilak of the New York EPA.

Benjamin Deblinger, EPA, New Jersey, and Bruce Jorgensen, EPA, New York, check a vehicle and its cargo for radioactive material.

Scotch Doubles Tourney Filled

Although all openings in the Scotch Doubles Bowling Tournament have been filled since Tuesday, it is still possible to attend the buffet for $3.00 per person. In addition to good food, there will be dancing and a great show by comedy star Morty Gunty.

Cooking Exchange

Jane Love

There are forty-seven kinds of edible, delicious fresh fish swimming around this Island we call home. Isn't it a pity we only know about three things to do with the beauties - fry, bake and broil?

On April 4th, at the Recreation Building, for a dollar, we have gathered some ladies who have some good things to show us about fish cooking - something old, something new, and a "little blue."
