Each scholarship provides $900 a year for up to four years or until the requirements for a bachelor's degree are completed. They are granted on the basis of academic excellence and independently of financial need.

What Else Is Black & White & Red All Over?

Looking like something out of the future, Megalith will welcome visitors to the Lab for Open House '75. Many will probably wonder what it means. Although various interpretations have been offered the most popular is that the four diagonal cubes in the center represent the four fundamental forces of nature - strong, weak, electromagnetic and gravitational - and the giant slabs above and below represent the research at Brookhaven which binds them together. To the creators of Megalith, Beverly and Marty Plotkin, there is no meaning, it is simply a pleasing piece of abstract art. Seen from the air, the massive artwork forms the letter "J." Coincidence?

To Be Or Not To Be - Qualified

At the recent Estate Planning Seminar the lecturer was asked whether the Laboratory's TIAA-CREF retirement plan is "qualified" and, if it is not qualified, what are the essential differences. The following is a more detailed answer than was given at that time.

The Laboratory's retirement plan is not a qualified plan. A "qualified" retirement plan is one that has been approved by the Internal Revenue Service to enable a company to deduct the cost of the plan as a business expense for tax purposes. Since the Laboratory is a tax-exempt, nonprofit organization, income tax is not a factor.

There are four tax relief provisions that have been traditionally available to participants in "qualified" plans.

$5,000, Tax-Free Benefit. The payment of vested annuity accumulations as a death benefit normally results in taxable income to the beneficiary to the extent that payment exceeds the employee's own contributions. Under a qualified plan, the first $5,000 of the taxable portion is excluded from income, provided the full death benefit is paid to the beneficiary in a single sum or within one taxable year.

Estate Tax Exclusion. The value of annuity death benefits resulting from employer contributions (Employee contributions to their annuities through the salary reduction option are considered employer contributions for tax purposes.) is not subject to federal estate tax if paid to a named beneficiary other than the estate. Death benefits attributable to the employee's own contribution are included in his gross estate.

Gift Tax Exclusion. An annuitant's irrevocable election of a joint (survivorship) option is granted a gift tax exclusion to the Employees coming to the Lab on Saturday or Sunday to look or work, please use the North Gate. The Main Gate will not be open until 9 a.m. and the traffic flow is expected to be heavy.

Check Your Tickets!

The Comptroller General of the United States announced recently that travel using other than U.S. air carriers would be an unallowable expense, if such service is available.

Any employee presently holding tickets for official travel aboard a foreign air carrier should contact the Lab Travel Office to make arrangements to travel in a U.S. carrier or verify that such service is not available. Failure to do so could make reimbursement impossible.

extent that the value of the survivorship annuity is attributable to employer contributions.

Capital Gains Treatment. Lump-sum settlements at retirement or death result in ordinary income under an unqualified plan, but are entitled to capital gains treatment with respect to contributions made prior to December 31, 1973, under a qualified plan.

In 1958, the first three provisions were extended to cover benefits paid under an annuity contract by research organizations, such as the Laboratory, that normally receives a substantial portion of their support from the government. In 1975, the fourth benefit was limited to contributions made prior to December 31, 1973, and hence ceases to be a reason for the Laboratory to

Happy Stitchers Give A Good Show

Last week the Hospitality Committee held a fashion show featuring homemade clothing. The models walked up and down a central promenade to music provided by Gordon Brown on the piano. Some of the models were, (left to right) Lucy Kinne, Nedy Santiago, Leah Gasser, Lee Schwender, Isabelle Nardi, Lela Radeka and Jennifer Van Steenberg.

Ruth Dimmler, Hospitality Committee Chairwoman, and Gail Bird, fashion show commentator, check the monologue before the show.

Jane McKenzie-Wilson (right) helps Lucy Kinne into a bridal gown she is to model.

The short times allowed for outfit changes caused a flurry in the changing room. Effectively coordinating the changes were Ginny Thien, Eileen Humphrey and Denise Dew-Hughes, the Wardrobe Mistresses.

Niki McNally in a bright red kaftan made by Virginia Wilson, Personnel, who made four of the outfits in the show.

Clockwise from top, Shanky Svinivasan wears a colorful outfit from India; Anne Kolata and daughter Kathy ready to play golf; Carol and Jane McKenzie-Wilson anticipate summer; Jane Love and sons Daniel and Thomas model matching kaftans.

Enjoying Good Wines At Moderate Prices

The past few years have been difficult ones for connoisseurs, and just plain consumers, of French wines. Sharply increasing consumption of wine, particularly in the U.S., combined with the devaluation of the dollar relative to the franc and small harvests have caused a precipitous increase in the cost of French wines.

The 1972 vintage, when auctioned in the barrel, brought record high bids, and it was not uncommon last year for the 1970 vintages of Bordeaux to be selling at almost four times the price asked in 1971. Fortunately, this trend has been reversed by recent events: the general recession, large yields in the vintage of 1973, and the "Bordeaux scandals," which revealed the fact that certain shippers had falsely labeled some of their lesser wines. All of this has led to a sharp drop in prices of the more expensive French wines during the past year, and this trend may well continue.

In an attempt to show that one can enjoy good wines at moderate prices, the French Group of BNL will sponsor a wine-tasting, to be held in the Recreation Hall (Apartment Area), on Friday, May 30, at 8 p.m. None of the red or white wines sampled will cost more than $3 per bottle. In addition to the wine, bread and cheese, the traditional accompaniments, will also be served. Members of the BNL community are cordially invited to attend; those who are not members of the French Group will be asked for a donation of $2.50.

It is important to realize that wine is not only the principal beverage in France, but provides the basis of a major industry as well. About one person in seven is employed in this industry, growing grapes, producing wine, transporting it, and so forth. Although there are only a handful of important wine-producing districts in France, the variety of wines is overwhelming. There are, for example, more than 2000 wine-producing chateaux in the Bordeaux region (albeit some of these are little more than modest country houses). Even the term "Beaujolais" really encompasses several distinct localities and nine specified "growths," of which we shall taste three. In addition, we shall taste three white wines from other regions of France: the Alsatian Gewurztraminer, St. Veran from the region of Macon, and Chateau Fonscolombe from the vicinity of Aix-en-Provence.

Remember, the date is May 30 - à votre santé!

Retirement Plan

(Continued) qualify its plan. Moreover, the salary reduction option would be lost were the Laboratory to qualify its plan. Since "qualified" pension plans receive their tax exemptions elsewhere in the Code, the salary-or-annuity option is not available as a conduit for employee contributions to qualified plans. The 1974 Pension Reform Act added one further benefit to qualified plans, namely, that a beneficiary receiving a lump-sum payment could use income-averaging over a ten-year period to minimize the tax impact. However, beneficiaries under the Laboratory's plan can avail themselves of a five-year averaging provision, or better simply avoid the severe tax consequences of a lump-sum payment by choosing among other options. Thus, it appears that by not qualifying its plan, the Laboratory has the significant benefits of a qualified plan while enjoying the advantages of a salary reduction option.

Tennis News

The nice weather finally arrived and brought the robins, dandelions, and a new crop of tennis enthusiasts. From limited observations our six courts will see more use than ever this season. That means that for all to enjoy this facility a great deal of cooperation and goodwill must be exercised.

There are a number of rules that have been established for court priorities. These are posted at the courts. Briefly, during the noon period and after 5 p.m., Laboratory employees (including guests, visiting scientists, and summer students) have priority over non-employees (including spouses, children, and their guests). Non-employees are urged to play at other times. Players are urged to limit the duration of their play, especially during the noon hour, to one set, and to two sets after 5 p.m. Players are also urged to limit the number of times per week they play, so that other players may be accommodated. Cooperation is urged on weekends when others may be waiting. It is not unreasonable for single play to be limited to one hour, and doubles to one and a half hour if the courts are busy.

It should also be recognized that there are other tennis facilities in the area that can be used. Members of the tennis committee can suggest alternate playing sites.

From time to time the courts are pre-empted for special laboratory functions, such as tournaments, picnics or for maintenance.

The current members of the tennis committee are Allan Auskern, Mary Jane Stangby, Tom Koetzle, Edward Platner, Steve Feldberg and Tom Luhman. The committee welcomes suggestions and comments from interested persons.

With the goodwill and cooperation of all we can have an enjoyable and hassle-free summer. —A. Auskern

The Hams That Helped

The ham radio operators from the BERA Amateur Radio Club that participated in the Marathon Race held on Sunday, May 4, were Charles Boulin, Tom Epps, Ed Hagelberg, Warren Hirzel, Rolf Lindgren, Stan Sajnacki, Rick Sancton, George Walczyk and Harold Worwetz.

With the thorough help of these men, the Marathon Committee knew where the racers were at all times. A special thanks is due to Jack Craig.

LUV In The Springtime

It's an all-star and all South Shore cast for LUV - BERA's next play now in the run-through stage at rehearsals.

LUV's Love is Bill from Bellport who has been at Brookhaven since 1960 as a high energy experimental physicist. His local acting roles have been with the Bellport Playcrafters where he has played Philip Lombard in Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians" and Commander Harbison in "South Pacific."

LUV's lovely is Jeanette Beardsworth, also from Bellport, who has had an active interest in the theatre, particularly during her undergraduate years at Northeastern University in Boston. Her appearance as Ellen will be her first major acting role at Brookhaven.

LUV's Harry Berlin is Stan Lowell, a Brookhavenite who has been active in shows both at BNL and Bellport. His theater interests are broad, as he has worked with stage crews and in sound and special effects for many Playcrafters and BNL Theatre Group productions. He was last seen on a BNL stage in "You Know I Can't Hear You When The Water's Running."

Performances will be in Stage II (Exhibit Hall) at 8:30 p.m. on May 23, 24, 25, 30 and 31. Tickets are $2 for BNL employees and their families, $2.50 for guests and $1 for students under 18 and senior citizens. Any questions you have can be answered by John Binnington at Ext. 2382.

Director Bruce Martin, Producer Bob Kinsey and cast prompter Denise Dew-Hughes watch rehearsals of "Luv."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I was wondering if there might be a chance that the Lab could sponsor a few Vietnamese refugees and their families. There are many skilled workers among them and possibly the Lab could fill one or two existing openings and also be in a position to offer temporary housing. Also if there are any employees interested in sponsoring individuals or families, they should contact Church World Services at (212) 870-2061 or call the U.S. State Department on their toll-free number (800) 368-1181.

Don David

To the Editor:

This is a very sincere "Thank You" to so many nice people who were, so very kind and helpful, when I had my accident.

It's nice to know that there are so many compassionate and considerate people in our world. I, personally am very grateful there are so many at BNL.

Many thanks,
Sylvia Murray

To the many friends and fellow workers of Christine Spillet,

On behalf of the family of Christine Spillet, I would like to extend our deepest thanks and appreciation to all of her friends and fellow workers at BNL who were with her through her sickness and who joined us in our sorrow at the time of her death.

With our sincerest thanks,
The Family of Christine Spillet
