Delicious Death Plotted for November 12

BERA Dinner-Mystery Theater Evening

With delectable dinner, divine dancing, and mind-boggling murder on the menu, the dinner-theater event plotted by the BERA Special Events Committee and Murder Mystery, Inc., for Friday, November 12, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Patchogue, promises to be an evening of extraordinary entertainment.

Murder Mystery, Inc., is a creative stage company whose talented undercover performance allows would-be detectives to experience their fantasies as spine-tingling reality — just for the evening.

Imagine sipping a cocktail from the open bar and chatting with friends, when, suddenly, somebody falls down dead. The scene is set for an exciting "Whodunit?", with dinner guests joining in as suspects, sleuths, victims — or even the murderer!

Under the skilled handling of Murder Mystery, Inc. — which has provided shows for Mayor Dinkins of New York City, the Ambassador of Thailand and Donald Trump, to drop a few names — the evening will build up with baffling clues, amazing — and amusing — red herrings and a thrilling, Agatha Christie-like solution.

And while the crime is food for thought, a meal fit for Nero Wolfe will be served.

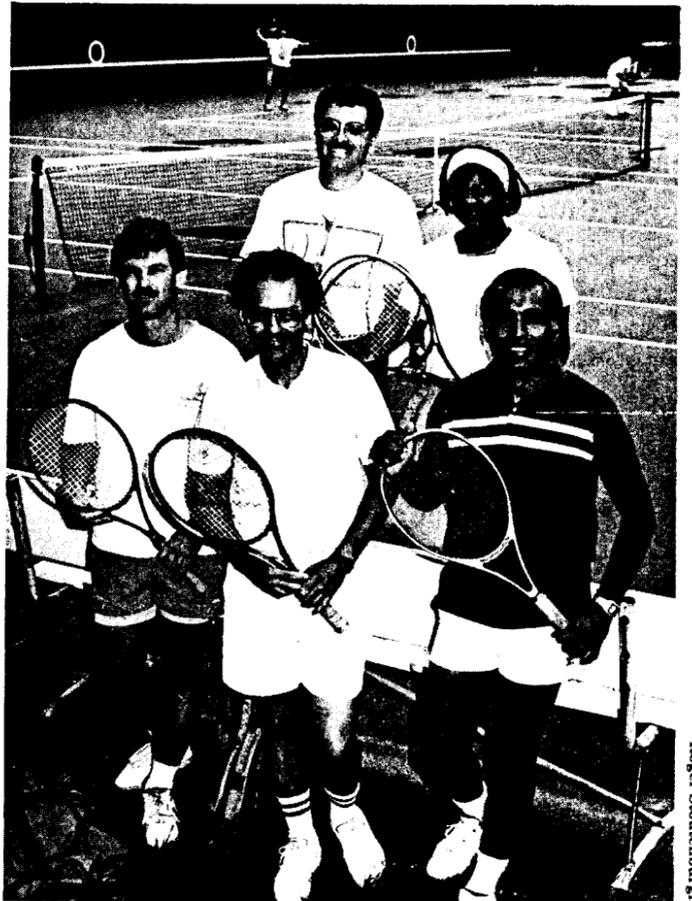

You'll savor a delicious choice of prime ribs or chicken cordon bleu, followed by a melt-in-the-mouth selection from the dessert table. The bar will be open for five hours.

Celebrate the solution of the mystery on the dance floor, where deejay Ed Taylor will keep the music playing until 1 a.m.

At $45 each, tickets are now being sold at the BERA Sales Office in Berkner Hall, Ext. 3347, weekdays from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. And don't miss a chance to "Win Dinner." To encourage gourmet mystery-goers to sign up quickly, all tickets paid for or reserved with a $10 nonrefundable down payment by October 4 will be entered in a drawing for four free tickets to the night's events.

Tennis Champs

When the BNL Tennis Committee's tournament concluded late last month, the five players at right had taken all the titles: (clockwise from left) Bob Meier bested many tough opponents to become the new men's singles champion; Joe Carbonaro and Diana Mathabane took the mixed doubles title for the second year running, while Mathabane also came away with her third consecutive women's singles title; Om Singh and Peter Vanier teamed up to win the men's doubles contest for the fourth year in a row.

TIAA-CREF: 1-on-1 Counseling

A TIAA-CREF representative will visit the Lab on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 22-24, to answer BNL employees' questions regarding the TIAA-CREF Retirement Plan in one-on-one counseling sessions. Questions might include:

- What are the differences between TIAA and CREF?
- How should I allocate my money between TIAA and CREF?
- How can I save on taxes?
- What options do I have for my existing dollars with TIAA-CREF?
- What are my options for my retirement years?

To arrange a half-hour appointment with the representative, call Joyce Wund, Personnel Division, Ext. 7516, by September 17.

Film badges will be changed tomorrow. Please place your badge in its assigned rack space before leaving work today.

Q. How does an elephant who forgets to shop, help the Food Drive?
 A. He checks it out!

Personal checks made out to "BNL Food Drive" and sent to Carole Kerr, Bldg. 460, are just as welcome as food, but King Kullen receipts are no longer useful.

Scoop of the Week

The sixth Scoop of the Week for this sixth contest season goes to Paul Moskowitz, Department of Applied Science, who suggested last week's story on the Albert G. Prodel Middle School.

During the closing days of summer, if you can scoop all of the Bulletin's informed sources with a hot tip and if the Bulletin publishes a news or feature story based on your idea, then you too may win a Scoop of the Week, an official certificate for a frozen dessert of your choice at the Cafeteria, compliments of Service America Corporation.

To enter the contest, rush your hot tips to the Brookhaven Bulletin, Bldg. 134, or call Ext. 5053, before the summer's end.

Placement Notices

The Laboratory's placement policy is to select the best-qualified candidate for an available position. Consideration is given to candidates in the following order: (1) present employees within the department/division and/or appropriate bargaining unit, with preference for those within the immediate work group; (2) present employees within the Laboratory; and (3) outside applicants. In keeping with the Affirmative Action plan, selections are made without regard to age, race, color, religion, national origin, sex, handicap or veteran status.

Each week, the Personnel Division lists new placement notices.
