BROOKHAVEN NATIONAL LABORATORY

Time Again to Renew Old BNL Friendships

This is the time of year for renewing old friendships and remembering people you may not have had a chance to visit during the year. So, the Bulletin is publishing this list of retired employees and those on long-term leave. Prepared by Personnel Services from its records, the list is up-to-date as up November 6. If you have any corrections, please notify Personnel or call (516) 282-7516.

"I'm three years in retirement — but not really away from the Lab, thanks to the great memories, good times and the friends who make it a point to stay in touch. We were especially delighted to learn of the great success of the BNL picnic and will plan more carefully to be present for the next one. We are regular commuters from Rhode Island to our Long Island family and friends.

"We have certainly joined the ranks of those who know there is still much work to be done within our own community, and we keep busy helping to bring some sunshine to those who are less fortunate. Our local volunteer groups are well-organized and very grateful for the assistance.

"We count our blessings and are very grateful for having found wonderful neighbors. Our fall foliage was even more beautiful than in years past. Our new Jamestown Bridge is finally completed, and it is absolutely beautiful, providing a wonderful view of Block Island Sound and the Atlantic. We enjoyed the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park (even if they lost); traveled through New Hampshire and Massachusetts (outlet shopping at its finest); and took a wonderful trip to Martha's Vineyard (sailing out of New Bedford).

"Again, many thanks for the weekly Bulletin, which keeps us in touch with events and happenings that affect our friends — friendships that time and distance do not diminish. We wish you all a very merry Christmas and a healthy, happy New Year."

In February, the Bulletin received a copy of this faxed certificate, issued by A. J. Hackett Bungy, Queenstown, New Zealand, to BNL retiree Don David on February 5 — his 62nd birthday:

This Certifies that

Don David of USA

HAS GAINED ALL TOUCH OF REALITY AND SENSE OF RESPONSIBLITY TOWARDS LIFE IN THROWING HIMSELF OFF A BRIDGE 143 FEET ABOVE A RAMPANT RAGING RIVER ATTACHED TO NOTHING MORE THAN A GREAT BIG RUBBER BAND.

David retired in late 1989 to do some traveling. He and his wife Genie visited Southeast Asia and India in 1991. Then, last winter, they traveled around the South Pacific. On the way to Australia, they stopped in New Zealand, and, on his birthday, they found themselves in Queenstown, which claims to be the capital of bungee jumping.

"They were offering free jumps to people over 60," David explained in an interview that appeared in Newsday on April 26, in which he said he didn't have time to think about being afraid. "I was busy when they tied my feet together and had me go through the instructions. The crowd, off to the side of the bridge, does the countdown, so you just sort of look ahead and jump out into space."

After the jump, David admitted to Newsday, "My knees were shaking then, so I guess I was afraid."

Genie David couldn't take the plunge because she was busy taking the accompanying photo of her husband's big bungee jump.

Back at home, David says, he's trying to organize a senior citizens rollerblade hockey team. Anyone interested?

"When I worked at Brookhaven, I met many wonderful people, so reviewing old snapshots brings back happy memories. I have met many fine people here on the West Coast too and am involved in community projects which engage so much of my time that I often wonder, 'Retirement? I'm busier than ever.'

"As a member of the Community Environmental Summit, we have just completed a directory of all such groups in the Pierce-King County [Washington State] region. Though I haven't counted, there are probably 80 or more such organizations.

"Living as I do just below the city's magnificent Wright Park, which was established in 1903 when then President Theodore Roosevelt planted a memorial oak in front of the Seymour Conservatory, I became involved as secretary to the Wright Park Neighborhood Association created three years ago to beautify and make safe this part of Tacoma. That oak is now tremendous, its spreading limbs seeming to express the eternity of nature. As a member of the Wright Park Funtime Singers, we visit retirement and nursing homes a few times each month, singing the popular songs of our time.

"I also serve as secretary of the ARC, an organization promoting the welfare of developmentally disabled citizens. Two or three times a year, I put out a newsletter for the Washington Resources Council, established 40 years ago to acquaint people with the natural resources of Washington State. We go on a field trip for three days each fall to visit farms, fisheries, water resources and other natural wonders of this beautiful state.

"Being secretary of the Unitarian Church of Tacoma and an active church member gives me much satisfaction, too. And the fact that I am near my middle son and his family brings us mutual pleasure.

"So, come west to retire. It's beautiful country — and, no, it doesn't rain all the time!"

The Bulletin extends a special thank-you to Joyce Wund, Personnel Division, for her assistance in preparing this special edition.

"To my many old friends —

"It's been six years,but it seems like only yesterday that I left. I'm fortunate to live close enough so that I visit quite often to see my old friends.

"The question most often asked is, 'What do you do to keep busy?'

"The answer is, 'How did I ever manage to get all of this work done and still work 40 hours a week?'

"It's obvious that I probably never noticed the necessary jobs around the house, though now they stare me in the eye every day.

"Have been doing quite a bit of traveling — Florida for a few months and many side trips.

"Miss you all. Happy holidays to you all." —Gasper Perry

"I reached the then mandatory retirement age of 65 at the end of 1970, leaving my job as Head of the Technical Information Division with some regret, since BNL had been a very pleasant and rewarding place in which to work for 23 years. Little did I then realize that a new career of an entirely different nature awaited me.

"With a lifelong interest in natural history, I signed up as a leader in the National Audubon Society ecology tours and was soon visiting such magnificent areas as Alaska, Patagonia, the Amazon and Galapagos Islands. In 1975, Audubon asked me to lead a group to Antarctica on a small cruise vessel, the Lindblad Explorer. I had never been to Antarctica, but,fortunately, I had a couple of months in which to study the natural history of that remote, spectacular continent before the cruise began.

"The expedition was a success, and I was then asked by Lindblad Travel Co. to serve as naturalist and lecturer on the fine, capable little ship, with a passenger capacity of about 80. The living on board is informal and intimate, and, with the very seaworthy Zodiac landing craft, we can land our passengers on coral and rocks, as well as sand, even under moderate surf conditions.

"During the northern winter, we make many expeditions to the Antarctic; in the summer, we are sometimes in the Arctic or among the islands of the Pacific and Indian Oceans, or possibly New Guinea or Indonesia. Except at the beginning and ending of a cruise, we avoid large ports, concentrating on wilderness areas.

"I now spend at least nine months of each year on various small cruise vessels. In 1984, we were the first cruise ship to transit the Northwest Passage, from Newfoundland to Yokohama, in 42 days. In the summer of 1991, we made the transit of the Northeast Passage, from Bering Strait to Norway's North Cape on the Soviet nuclear-powered icebreaker Sovietskiy Soyuz, as described in this listing last year. On another cruise, we stopped at the geographic North Pole.

"I have now made 35 cruises to Antarctica and about the same number to the Arctic. Last September, I was on the splendid four-masted barque Sea Cloud in the eastern Mediterranean, and, as you read this, I am just returning from the Amazon. This is a fascinating and exciting career, but I still recall my associations with BNL and its fine people with much warmth." — Dennis Puleston

[Editor's Note: In October, Dennis Puleston's new book A Nature Journal, was published by W.W. Norton & Company. Written and illustrated by Puleston, the book describes the cycles of Long Island's flora and fauna throughout the year.]

Q

JOHN W. QUINN
63 Paumanake Rd.
Blue Point NY 11715

"The time has really flown by since my retirement in 1976. We were celebrating the Country's 200th birthday, and it seems like yesterday. As I read the weekly Bulletin, it appears that all my former working buddies have also retired and are now enjoying the good life.

"After I left the Plant Engineering Division, we settled in Hartwood, Virginia, and found a beautiful former manse and country doctor's home in need of restoring. It was built about 1850, and we have finally restored it to its former glory.

"I went to work for Stafford County as an engineering technician in the utility department, while my wife Phyllis works in the county school system as a paraprofessional with the L.D. classes.

"We have acquired about seven acres in this rural area and now have four ponies — three Shetlands and one beautiful Arabian. Also acquired two wonderful daughters who just had a successful year as new riders and ended the season as champion and reserve champion.

"I still collect military items and uniforms as a hobby, and, if anyone has any, I would be glad to have them. Phyllis makes reproduction porcelain dolls and repairs antique dolls.

"All in all, we are pleased with our choice of Virginia, and send regards and best wishes to all. To my former working buddies: Stop in or write to us. All are welcome." — Radford J.M. Sprague

Carl Thien retired as BNL's Public Relations Officer in May 1981 — 41 years after he first arrived at the BNL site, as an inductee joining the U.S. Army at Camp Upton, during World War II.

"I started at Upton and retired from Upton. Things never change!" wrote Thien, in an inscription to a copy of the book that he published this February. Entitled The 56th Signal Battalion — Before the Thunder, the book describes "the metamorphosis of civilian draftees into competent soldiers of the U.S. Army."

Thien was with the 56th Signal Batallion from May 1941 to July 1942, when he joined the war in the Pacific — the subject of Thien's second book, which rolls off the presses this month. Entitled Pacific Island Odyssey, and subtitled Whistling Past the Foxholes, the book "took about six months of really concentrated effort to write," Thien said. "It focuses on the things I did, not on the grand picture of the war."

As he explains in his introduction to The 56th Signal Battalion, Thien was inspired to begin his books "In 1991, the fiftieth year after Pearl Harbor, [when] I was visited by the son of one of the members of the 56th Signal Battalion who wanted to meet some of his deceased father's war buddies.

"I did not remember Gerald Sweeney in any detail, but had a vague remembrance of his name as a member of A Company. As I talked to his son, many memories began to emerge from my brain, and I found that the past was not wholly forgotten, but only over-ridden by more recent events. Jerry Sweeney urged me to write down some of those memories, if only to give my children and grandchildren a sense of where I had come from.

"I remembered a large package of letters that my mother had saved, and also letters that I had sent to my then girlfriend [and now wife] Ginny Kelly. The musty, sometimes crumbly letters were not in any logical order, but were intensely interesting for me to re-read as they brought up situations and circumstances that I had thought were long forgotten. . . ."

For more information about Thien's books, contact him at his home in Florida (see address in this listing), where he and Ginny have lived for about four years. They have brought their hobby of growing orchids with them from Long Island, and Ginny Thien has formed an orchid club that is quite successful. Carl Thien also writes and edits the Village Bulletin for their community of about 4,000 people.
