

Brookhaven National Laboratory African American Advancement Group 2021 Membership Application

Mission Statement

The African-American Advancement Group (AAAG) exists to provide a forum where employees and guests can promote awareness of the Black, African, African-American and Caribbean cultures, share professional insights, acquire information and provide leadership on their careers and work environment within BNL. We aspire to increase the presence and leadership ability of our community by building strong strategic alliances with laboratory management and facilitating the hiring, retention, education, mentorship and career advancement of African-American talent at all levels, thereby assisting the Lab to achieve its diversity goals.

Membership:

Membership is open to all individuals affiliated with BNL/BSA who are supportive of the objectives as stated in the Mission Statement.

Full membership is extended to those who have paid their dues. Full members have voting rights, may hold offices, and may chair committees. Affiliate members can attend meetings and participate in committees, but cannot vote, hold offices or chair committees.

Membership is for the calendar year period (January 1 – December 31).
Membership dues: $15.00 per year.
