Dear Supporters,

First and foremost a huge “Thank You” to you all for the packages that arrived at Camp Cedar in Southern Iraq today. Words cannot even describe how I felt when I saw what you all had put together for our guys out here. Everything will be put to good use, I promise! The troops get so excited when they know we got a new shipment in, and it always brings a smile to our faces to be able to provide the necessities that back home we just take for granted. Thank you for the snacks, especially. Being on the run like they are when they arrive on this camp, they are always looking for fast snacks to grab n go, and that giant box of granola bars is just perfect. The wipes, the lotions and soaps, shampoos, everything you sent was just awesome. Thank you!

I will take pictures of the soldiers enjoying your gifts, and I will also share with the MWR so your gifts can reach even more of the troops here on camp. I just wanted to let you know that your boxes arrived safely, and make sure that you all know what angels you are. Without the support from home, I couldn't do what I do, and that is to make our guys as comfortable while they are here as humanly possible. It's the support from back home that makes the difference to us over here. Please be assured that you get the credit for everything we are able to provide for the troops. They understand that when we have things for them, it's because of friends and families like you. I appreciate you, my team appreciates you and most of all, our soldiers appreciate you.

Feel free to email me for any additional information, or if I can be of any help from this end, I will do my best to accommodate you. Once again, I appreciate all the time you took to put all of this together, you are angels!!!!!!

Be safe and take care, big hugs from Iraq!

Thank you,

Lynn Bielefeld
