Israel Baker and Yaltah Menuhin met in 1948 at the home of author Thomas Mann and were so impressed with each other's musicianship that they decided to collaborate and form a sonata ensemble. Since then they have appeared in concert all along the West Coast and have earned the critics' enthusiastic acclaim for their "brilliant performances", "immense potentialities", and "convincing interpretation". Now on their first Eastern concert tour, Miss Menuhin and Mr. Baker will play their first New York recital on January 5, the day after their appearance at B.N.L.

Israel Baker was a musical prodigy who gave his first recital at the age of six. Later he was a member of the All-American Youth Orchestra and then joined Toscanini's N.B.C. Symphony Orchestra as one of its youngest members. After two and one half years of service in the Army Air Force, he became concert master of the Hollywood Bowl Symphony, and currently he holds the same post with the Los Angeles Chamber Symphony. He has appeared as soloist with many Western and Midwestern orchestras.

Yaltah Menuhin, youngest sister of Yehudi Menuhin, received most of her musical training in Europe, where she also appeared in concert with her brother and as soloist with major orchestras. During the war she toured the country playing under the auspices of the U.S.O. Last season she was twice soloist with the San Francisco Symphony, whose conductor, Pierre Monteux, has described her as the most talented member of the Menuhin family.
