THE MEN WHO CAME TO DINNER

and got: a teaspoonful of arsenic half a teaspoonful of strychnine and just a FINCH of cyanide

in elderberry wine

from that ministering angel, Abby Brewster, were afterward rewarded with a proper burial service, Unitarian, Baptist, Presbyterian, or, perish the thought, Methodist all very proper. Then Teddy Brewster, who thought he was Teddy Roosevelt, buried them in the "Panama Canal". It was a lovely set-up, with friendly cops wandering in and out collecting hot soup for their sick wives and surplus toys for the Police Christmas Toy Drive. The Brewsters, as you can see, were all great humanitarians, specializing in putting people out of their misery.

You're invited to come and see these happy hostesses at work on June 4 and 5, at the theatre. The elderberry wine is free to all who want it.

Be it here noted that Sylvia Stein has been appointed acting production manager, and would be happy to receive kindness and cooperation from any persons on whom she may call for help.
