The Personnel Department has furnished the following information which will be of interest to prospective voters.

Voting requirements for persons having moved to this area include:

Residence in New York State for one year.

Residence in Suffolk County for four months.

Residence in the Election District for thirty days.

Those who meet the residence requirements must register in their Election District. Since the dates, hours and places for registry vary with the Election Districts, it is urged that your local village clerk be consulted for this information without delay. Election Day occurs this year on November 2, and normally registration records are closed three to four weeks prior to Election Day.

If any potential voters are exercising the right to vote for the first time, having arrived at the age of twenty-one since the last national election, they will be required to show a birth certificate. In addition, they must show a diploma from grammar, high school, or college in connection with a literacy qualification. If such a document is not available, a short literacy test is given at the polling

POETRY

(Several staff members have asked the name of the poet (?) who perpetrated the poem entitled "Negative Story", that appeared in our last edition.

We must admit that we wrote it, and published it in the hope that it would inspire someone to send in some real poetry which would be printed over the writer's name.

We are anxious to receive any type of poetry and we will publish it provided it is in good taste and is worthy of reproduction. - Editor)

UNFORGOTTEN

White tumultuous waves
surging into shore
Like an army with its
echoing roar.
How many secrets does
the sea hold?
Secrets of men, ne'r to
be told,
Who died 'neath the soaring,
angry tide!

The sea roared its wrath
and took its toll
Of tiny ships, merciless
in its hold.
Battered and torn, ever
forlorn;
Smashed against ageless
rocks and cliffs along
the shore,
Their story is covered
forever more.

On certain days, when the sea is still--
Gentle breezes seem to echo
Their tale of woe, their mournful cry
Eternally lost, their last goodbye!

FACT 'N FISSION

"I read about the lady who complained about the terrible smell of the duck refuse in Brookhaven," said the sage of Brookhaven, "so I went down there to investigate. The lady is right. The smell was not only terrible. It was offal!"

Prospective optimists can learn from Long Island real estate developers. They find a damp spot in the woods, build bungalows around it and call it a lake.

Lives of top brass oft remind us,
They may be top dog it's true,

WOOER, SPURNED BY GIRL, SETS FIRE TO HER HOUSE.

"I don't want to set your house on fire,
I just want to start a flame in your heart."

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE DEPARTMENT

It is refreshing to hear of some extra-curricular work performed by staff members without comment or dissension.

The electrical storm that swept this end of Long Island last Saturday night threatened to curtail the activities of the Meteorology Group as electric power failed at 7:30 p.m. Meteorology technicians Fred Bartlett and Donald Kohl of the Laboratory staff, and Meteorological aide Matthew Lefkowitz, United States Weather Bureau, were on duty at the time, and with the cooperation of staff members from the APPM Department, portable gasoline operated motor generator sets were placed in operation. The power generated by this make-shift equipment provided lights and made it possible for the technicians to continue their compilation of essential weather data.

At 12:30 midnight, Alfred J. Brunini, leader of Utilities Maintenance Group offered to have the necessary repairs made on the transformer immediately, if they were considered necessary. In order to avoid the night work the Meteorological Group decided to use the portable units. On Sunday, the technicians and Mr. Daniel Mazzarella spent several hours in maintaining the service and according to the Group Leader, they deserve considerable credit for their ingenuity and resourcefulness.

The more you hear of safety, the less you hear of accidents.

ODE TO A SYNCHROTON

Anonymous poem which appears on Dr. George K. Green's (Accelerator) blackboard.

Twinkle, twinkle little proton,
How I wonder where you are,
Hiding in a donut wall
Why did you oscillate so far?

I did it cause you pushed and shoved.
I really felt I wasn't loved.
You did it without rhyme or reason,
For after all, I ain't no meson.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT IN PROSPECT

Sixteen staff members have advised Dick Vogt that they would be interested in taking part in a basketball tournament and a meeting to discuss plans is to be held in the gymnasium on Friday, September 24, at 12 noon.

The meeting will be open to anyone, and interested persons should be sure to attend.

The time: 12 noon

The place: Gymnasium

Sept. 24th
