LENTO BNL GOLF CHAMPION

With a low score of 79, Louis M. Lento, (P. D.) won the Golf Tournament held at the Bellport Country Club on October 9, and became the first BNL golf champion. Approaching the eighteenth hole with a lead of one stroke over Frank Walsh, AM Department, and two strokes over "Tommy" Marrion, AM Department, Lento sank a fifteen-foot putt to retain his lead which he had gained on the seventeenth hole.

Nineteen staff members took part in the tournament, and the fact that prizes were offered for various events as well as low score, held the interest of all entrants until the match was over. "Jim" Knox, manager of the Business Department, won the blind bogey contest with a net score of 75, and was awarded a prize of $10.00 in golf merchandise. Frank Walsh won $5.00 in golf merchandise with the longest drive of 275 feet. Eldon C. Shoup, executive vice-president of AUI, won the prize for the fewest putts with a total of 29 for the eighteen holes. Mr. Lento was runner-up in this event. In the hole-in-one contest "Tommy" Marrion placed his winning ball four feet nine and one-half inches from the pin to win the prize offered in this event, and Wallace B. Stroud, Jr., AM Department, was a close second

AN EMBARRASSING
MOMENT

"Mike" Reiss of the AEC said recently that his most embarrassing moment came when he was speaking on atomic physics before a group of staff members. After the first two minutes of his talk about half of the audience softly tiptoed out. At the end of the third minute another large group left, and at the end of five minutes there was only one man in the audience. Mike was somewhat perturbed, so he said to the gentleman, "Do you think this talk is a little bit over your head, too?" The lone spectator replied, "No, I'm the next speaker."
