DRAMATIC CLUB PLANS SPRING PRODUCTION

After a two-month rest on its laurels, the Dramatic Group has snapped back into action, getting set for a new spring production. A recent Broadway hit comedy has been chosen as the vehicle, and presentation is tentatively scheduled for the latter part of May, 1949.

A meeting of the Group will be held in the Theater on Monday, April 4, at 5:05 p.m. Casting will be started, and work committees organized. Any staff members interested in trying out for a part in the production are invited to attend this meeting. Wives or husbands of staff members are eligible.

Ben Lipetz, who will direct the production, states that dozens of actors, actresses, set-builders, prop-men, costumers, stagehands, etc., will be required. Experience is desirable but not necessary.

Interested staff members who cannot attend the meeting on Monday should call Ben Lipetz, Ext. 2272, as soon as possible.

FISHERMAN NAME COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

At the regular meeting of the BNL Fishing Club on March 21, 1949, the following committee chairmen were appointed:

Publicity - Al Ottmann
Finance - Roy Leaf
Prize - Frank Jelley
Project - Hewitt Norcross

The names of the individuals selected by the chairmen to serve as members of the various committees will be reported to the Club at a later meeting.

A design for a button for club members was discussed and it was decided that it would be made up in the form of a striped-bass in blue on a white background with red lettering. After a discussion of the rules that would govern fishing contests, the matter was tabled to be taken up at the next meeting on April 11.

Any staff members wishing information about the Fishing Club should call Lillian Sylvester, Ext. 2132.

FERTILIZER AT REDUCED PRICE

Dr. W. Ralph Singleton of the Biology Dept. states that the fertilizer offered to staff members is a 5-10-5 mixture, good for either vegetable gardens or lawns.

Staff members may purchase 100-pound bags at $2.50 per bag. Orders accompanied by full payment, must be placed with Dick Vogt, Recreation Office, Gym, before 5:00 p.m., April 8.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR FELLOW WORKER?

Arthur Horn has always been interested in boxing. As a young man, he took part in amateur boxing tournaments whenever the opportunity presented itself. Graduating from the amateur class, he entered the professional ring fighting as a lightweight, 133 pounds. For several years he fought in the semi-final and final events in Madison Square Garden, St. Nicholas Rink and other sports arenas. During this time he fought young Terry McGovern who was the lightweight champion.

Arthur states that his earnings from his profession were satisfactory and that he enjoyed the life but in his last fight he forgot to duck and was hit a terrific blow behind the left ear which knocked him out, although he was still on his feet. The referee, sensing his defenselessness, stopped the bout. Arthur decided that he would quite the prize ring before he was completely slaphappy.

After leaving the prize ring, Arthur took a position in his father's business, manufacturing wedding cake ornaments. He moved to Patchogue when the business was transferred there. He first came to the Laboratory site as an employee of H. K. Ferguson Company in 1947 and transferred to the BNL Medical Department as an orderly several months ago.

Arthur and Mrs. Horn live in Patchogue where they pursue their hobby of breeding and showing Cocker Spaniels. They have three children. The oldest daughter is Captain of a fishing boat which operates out of Fort Lauderdale in the winter time and Montauk Yacht Club in the summer time. Their son is a radiotechnician employed at the Rocky Point radio station, and the youngest daughter is the leader of an orchestra which tours the country, with New York as its central point.

So, staff members, unless you know your fellow worker well, tread lightly and don't take a swing at anyone named Horn.

BOOKS ON BERA
RENTAL LIBRARY
SHELVES

"CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN" - by Frank B. Gilbreth Jr. and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey--

This is the saga of the Gilbreth family. Frank B. Gilbreth was father of time studies and, incidentally, of 12 children. He had no inhibitions, obviously. He was proud of his time studies and doubly proud of his 12 children and took every opportunity to exhibit both to any audience that would pay attention.

This is a hilarious book and it is the leading seller, non-fiction, according to the New York Herald Tribune and the New York Times.

It is difficult to pick out any particular passage in the book to highlight, but Father's attempt to make time studies through motion pictures of the operations of removing his children's tonsils is perhaps as amusing as any. Father's reaction to the same operation performed on himself affords laughter for the children and the reader.

The visit of the psychiatrist to the Gilbreth family is equally amusing, as the children, aware in advance of the visit, were primed with answers to every question. Needless to say, the answers were pat and the psychiatrist, a woman, finally exclaimed, "The hell with it!"

"Cheaper by the Dozen" is not the type of "joke" book that needs to be taken in small doses. Readers invariably start and finish the book the same day.

It is not recommended for individuals who are recovering from an abdominal operation.

The hunter talking to the cannibal said, "I understand that you graduated from Oxford University. Is it true that you still eat human flesh?"

"Oh, yes," said the cannibal, "but now I use a knife and fork."
