READING OF SHAW'S "CANDIDA"

At the Theatre Group meeting next Tuesday evening, October 8, a prepared, abridged reading of Shaw's Candida will be presented. There will be a very short business meeting, with a progress report on the new production just being started of "Reclining Figure". The meeting will be in the large Theatre, at 8:15 P.M. Theatre Group meetings are always open to interested people and we think this will be an especially attractive meeting. There are all sorts of jobs waiting for people who would like to contribute to the next play or to the sometimes formal and sometimes informal programs that are presented at Theatre Group meetings. Come Tuesday night and see what's going on!

DANCE ANYONE?

During the past several years the Arthur Murray Dance Classes, held at the Laboratory, have been very popular and successful. If enough people are interested, another class will be organized this season. For additional information, call the Recreation Office, Ext. 391.

SELF ANALYSIS - SELF TAUGHT

Do you see yourself anywhere here: The California art-collecting tycoon; the sweet (but sarcastic) young thing; a Roumanian blackmailer (with or without a twirling mustache); the suave European-type art dealer; the very sincere young man. Tryouts are being held at lunchtime Thursday and Friday at the theatre for the above and other assorted parts in "Reclining Figure", the next play to be presented by the Theatre Group. Ginnie Sayre is directing, and the expected dates of presentation are December 12 and 13. Christmas parties beware—we spoke first! But meantime, come and participate in tryouts this week. We will be delighted to welcome you.

SHUTTERBUGS MEET

The Camera Club, in an effort to get the group percolating for the winter season, is calling all members together for an organizational meeting. If you are a past or present member you are urged to attend to help set up rules, regulations, and plans for the year. An election of new officers will also be on the agenda. As always, employees interested in joining the club are welcome. The gathering will take place at the Gymnasium, Tuesday, October 8, at 5:15 P.M.
