FALL AND WINTER FILMS

According to custom, films have been scheduled whenever possible for the first Monday evening of each month.

In spite of the many congratulatory messages from the Kleenex Corporation for the fine selection of tragic, dolorous and heartbreaking films shown this past summer, we hope the winter program will be somewhat gayer and romantic.

The Big Day November 4, 1957

Strange as it may be, we can find little information about this picture. We do know the feature player to be Jacques Tati, the laugh getter of Mr. Hulot's Holiday. Apparently, Jolly Jacques plays the part of a postman and the story is of his adventures and misadventures. Of course, if you don't give a twit for Tati, don't come.

The Bed December 9, 1957

Well, now, this sounds interesting. It concerns four storm-bound motorists, who, forced to sit up for a night, entertain one another by each telling a story that involves a bed. So we have four short stories of a multi-lingual variety—British, French and Italian. It's an amusing, droll show. On December 9, you'll get The Bed, but you won't get bored.

The Proud and The Beautiful January 6, 1958

This is a pretty degenerate film and has been selected as a tid-bit for the non-degenerates among our patrons. It's a simple story, the tale of a derelict and alcoholic doctor living among a group of prostitutes, who is restored to grace by a time of crisis and the love of an understanding woman. The crisis being an epidemic, the woman is Michele Morgan. The critics gave an accolade with four stars to Miss Morgan and Gerard-Phillippe for particularly well played rolls.

BERA SMALL-FRY CONCERT

The New Art Wind Quintet

MARTIN ORENSTEIN, flute
MELVIN KAPLAN, oboe

CHARLES RUSSO, clarinet
MORRIS NEWMAN, bassoon

ROBERT CECIL, French horn

Children of all ages, and adults too will enjoy the New Art Wind Quintet, to be presented by the BERA Concert Group on Saturday, October 19, at 10:30 a.m., in the Research Staff Lounge. Admission is 75 cents, and tickets will be available at the door. This concert is not included in the regular series.

Those who heard this group here last season know of their virtuosity and musical style. Their repertoire includes over four hundred original works for this combination, and several contemporary composers have written especially for this group.

In addition to its concert and recording work, the New Art Wind Quintet has been active in the educational field. It has been Ensemble-in-Residence at the University of Virginia, and its members have taught at such institutions as the Juilliard School of Music, and the Yale School of Music. The group has given hundreds of concerts in the New York City schools, as well as performances in the schools of Washington and Philadelphia.

The Game of Love February 3, 1958

This is the film adapted from the novel "Le Ble en Herbe" by Colette and featuring Charles Deschamps, Renne Devillers, Helene Tossy et d'autres. The plot is a teen-age romance in the "pre-white sport coat and green carnation" era between Phil and Vinca, who discover the "unknown illness of love" one summer in Brittany when an older woman comes to live in a house nearby. Our distributor has assured us that we will have the complete uncut print . . . whatever that may mean.

We Are All Murders March 3, 1958

ARTHUR MURRAY DANCE CLASS

The first session of the Arthur Murray Dance Class will be held Wednesday, October 23, at 8:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. At this time, those who have expressed an interest, should be present to decide the type of dances they would prefer to be taught. If the turnout is large enough, there is a possibility two classes will be formed. Refreshments will be available at cost.
