TABLE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Close, hard fought contests marked the first week of competition in the singles and doubles table tennis tournament. The top seeded singles players, J. Smith and S. Rottenberg, were both pushed to their limits to gain the quarter final round. Smith was carried to three games by W. Lanyi before winning (15-21) (21-11) (21-18), while Rottenberg defeated A. Christofferson in straight games by the close scores of (21-19) (22-20). Sparkling play was registered in the remaining matches which saw H. Marshall defeat Porile (21-19) (21-19), J. Sadofsky pummeled D. Thomas (21-14) (21-8), S. Garrett squeezed by R. Giallorenzo (23-21) (21-15), G. Feinberg easily defeated T. Feidner (21-12) (21-8) and G. Tiller laughed his way to a win over T. Holmquist (21-13) (20-22) (21-17).

The doubles produced an upset, when the team of Garrett and Lanyi defeated Rottenberg and Marcus in a tense match (21-12) (17-21) (22-20). Marshall and Holmquist stroked their way to a victory over Tiller and Gutowski in a three game match (21-16) (22-20).

The singles match between Rochford and Hass had not been played at the times of printing, along with two doubles encounters.

The quarter-final singles pairings: P. Smith against the winner of the Rochford-Hass match, Garret vs. Marshall, Sadofsky vs. Tiller and Rottenberg vs. Feinberg. The upper bracket of the doubles semi-final places the team of Garret and Lanyi against Marshall and Holmquist.

LADY KEGLERS COLUMN

Last night was, what could be termed, general "clobber" night, with the majority of the lower averaged bowlers "going crazy". A few examples of which are Mary Kukacka - 162, Joan Smith - 161 and K. Brennan - 151. Jean Hughes of the Handicappers converted the 4-10 split.

High game for the night was Pat Majkowski's 181 (she also rolled a very nice series: 484). Follow ups on high game were Irene Abrams - 179, Trudy Neuhooff - 174 and Helen Kelly - 172.

Odds and Ends were put over a barrel by Biology who took two, putting first place lead in a very precarious position.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

Metallurgy out-maneuvered the Phoubars (for their 7th straight) by a score of 51 to 30. J. Brandon and G. Sabine seemed alive for their teams in the first half as they each scored 10 points but failed to tally in the second. High point honors went to H. Frei and "Billy the Kid" Lanyi as they outcharged each other for 16 and 15 respectively. Play-maker and workhorse for Metallurgy C. Klamut carrolled 13.

In the second match Health Physics was able to maintain their clean slate as they dropped their 6th straight game to Biology 43-23. H. Marshall (with a sprained wrist) and Big Bill Ray dunked 15 apiece for the winners. The H.P. men found the going rough all night due to the absence of their play-maker and high scorer, Red Carstens, who was out of town.

BOWLING BITS

Monday: Some of the artillery started to loosen up after the weeks of layoff as Bob Hambley with a respectable 211 led the Splitters team to a 4 to 0 victory over the Operators and a 1 game lead in the league standings.

The surprising Metalmen continued to win by dumping the Fire Dept. for 3 points behind the 186, 202 bowling of Nate Carter, giving them a nest in second place and the Dept. a follow up third.

Last place has now turned into a three-way tie as the Reefers dug a bigger hole for whatever chances last year's champions Glass House Gang ever had, coasting to a 4 to 0 win. High in this match was John Scandizzo with a 197. T.M.

Wednesday: The Phoubars and Designers continued their battle for league leadership with the Phoubars maintaining a slim margin of 1 point. Both teams won over their nearest rivals, Fire Dept. and Fiscal, by a 3-1 count. Tom Marrion's 565 series, 202 game and Red Gardenier's 209 led the Phoubars offense, while Andy Brems 201 was high for the losers. Fiscal, handicapped by a short handed team, won the close fought last game after losing the first 2 decisively, Carl Cantera paving the way with a 225 game. ADD Techs and Ptuis fought to a stand still with Ptuis only winning one game but taking total wood by 12 pins. Purchasing meanwhile stymied the Dirty Birds attempt to move out of the cellar by taking 2 games and total wood.

Thursday League No. 1: The Mixers, led by Capt. Lento's 204 game, 548 series swept 4 points from S&M to increase their lead to nine games. The Metalliks paced by Barry Galen's 213 game, 514 series took 4 points from the Lattices. The "Hustling" T. Totalers led by R. Dvorak's fine 235 game, 602 series took 3 points from the Technicians. Fiscal No. 2 team took 4 points from the Biology gang, moving into 6 spot in the standings. G.T.

Thursday League No. 2: Al Oltmann's steady bowling, backed up by R. Sick's strong arm of the Loopers, took 4 points from the Joy Riders, who are in bad shape because of the loss of two bowlers.

Although the dark horse (A Friedland) on the Bismuth Kings bowled a wonderful 194 to give him a 476 series, the Kings failed to take more than one point from the hard-rolling Hot Lab. The Hot Lab team, sparked on by C. Ruege's 200 and B. Sylvester's 217 game - 525 series, still hold first place.

The Nuclides were pushed on by the long arm of Jim Powell (213 - 482) to take 3 points from the T-2-0-Nine crew led by G. Fales who last week bowled a wonderful game.

Woodbutcher Capt. Millian's 206 - 520 and J. Sietz's 191 helped to carve 4 points out of the weary Toolmakers. F. Green's 191 - 530 was the best effort for the losers. BOB WATSON
