BOWLING BITS

Monday: First place has become a hard position to hold as the lead keeps bouncing back and forth between the Splitters and Metal Men. This week, a sub-par Splitter team could not overcome a 45 pin handicap in two of the three games against the Glass House Gang, but had enough wood left over from one to get a 2-2 draw. Four points and first place went to the Metal Men as they had very little trouble blowing the Reefers down. In the remaining match, chalk up three points in the win column for the Fire Dept. over the Operators and since no two-hundred games were bowled all night, I thought I'd mention Mr. Potter's 104, 90, 101 series for whatever it is worth. T.H.

Thursday League No. 1: The pins were flying in the Thursday night league as a total of ten games over 195 were registered. The league tightened up with no change of standings as the Technicians rolled over the Mixers 3-1, the T-Totals nudged the S&M gang for 3 points, the Latticites took 3 from the Biology boys and the Metalliks took 3 from the Fiscal No. 2 boys. The games over 195 were: Palermo-201, Dvorak-219, Hildenbrand-205-200, Wessel-195, Hamlyn-202, Tiller-213, Tremel-206, Brodsky-199, and Pinelli-201. G.T.

Thursday League No. 2: Even with the natural resources of the Hot Lab thrown in to B. Sylvester's 561 series and C. Ruege's 514, the Hot Lab lost three hard points to the heavy rolling Loopers lead by R. Sick's 469 series.

The Bismuth Kings took their first forfeit game to give them four needed points. The joy was spread out too far for the Joy Riders, only two riders showed.

The Toolmakers started off with a big bang and continued right on through with Zelenka's 535 and Green's 449. The tall men of the Nuclides dropped three points even with L. Kukacka's final push of 203.

The Wood Butchers came up out of the wood with some real straight cutting by Ruppert's 588 and Lewis' 503, to shave three points from the hard-fighting T-209'ers.

LADY KEGLERS COLUMN

Odds and Ends opened up on Nightingales at the start of the third and final round, by taking three, giving them a slightly tighter hold on 1st place lead; all three games "sweated" out by 10th frame wins. Chemistry stomped on the Handicappers by taking three with the help of Dot Carpino's 495 series. High series for the losers was Mary Kukacka's 454.

At the start of the third round, 1st and 2nd places are very much "up in the air", being anybody's "fair game"; with five (5) teams vying for the championship.
