VOLUME 12 - NUMBER 29

FEBRUARY 25, 1959

"THE WEARING 'O THE GREEN"

A committee has been formed to start the ball rolling on the forthcoming BERA ST. PATRICK'S DANCE. Decorations, headed by Fredi Hoffmann of Nuclear Engineering, will include a fabulous net of festive colored balloons to be dropped at midnight. The bandstand will be decked in traditional green and white, and you'll dance under a blue sky with indirect lighting provided by the Lighting Committee, headed by Pat Towey of Physics. By the way, still plenty of room for volunteers so why not sign up to help in some small way?

Refreshments will be available at cost. Bring your own bottle, —set-ups, beer and soda will be on hand.

Music will be provided by Mike Greco and his band, from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m.

The price is just $1.00 per person with free green carnations for the ladies.

The date is Friday, March 13. Ask your favorite girl today!!

SAFARI TO EUROPE

The natives are becoming restless. News of the safari has spread with the result that we have approximately half the people needed. Hurry and reserve your place before the great white bird is full. An organizational meeting will probably be held in about a week to fix details of the trip. Call Jim Powell, Ext. 789. Remember - $300 round trip by air.

SET SHOTS

Featuring a ferocious, fast-breaking offense, Metallurgy stormed over Chemistry 61-32. Lanyi slashed in for 22, Klamut 15, and Frei and Brandon 10 each for Metallurgy. Lark dominated the Chemistry scoring with 15.

The balanced beef of Biology survived a one-man scoring show by Kenney to whip the Oldtimers 46-35. Ray dunked 15, Steffensen 13, and Marshall 10 for Biology. Kenney put 22 through the hoop.

The overconfident Phoubars almost waited too long to overtake an inspired ADD team. With less than 35 seconds to go Sabine hit a foul shot and Merriam stole the ball to score on a driving lay-up and give the Phoubars a 48-45 victory. Reems popped 15, Sabine 11, and Carstens 10 for the Phoubars. Lawrence blistered the basket for 24 and Flood got 8 for ADD.

FERNANDEL

Being aware of the changing seasons, the approach of Spring is being heralded this year not by the observance of the crocus and daffodil, but by the appearance of THE WILD OAT. Film goers can see it at the Lecture Hall on Monday, March 2 at 8:30 p.m. Admission 50¢.

This is a wonderful Gallic farce giving Fernandel an exceptional opportunity to display his pantomimic talents. As the film opens, a small town is in complete uproar over the birth of a child to a young unmarried girl, with the suspicious finger of guilt pointing to Fernandel's son who had been whisked away by the army shortly before. In a magnificent defense of his son's honor, Fernandel brings to bear a pointed weapon: as the town's only baker, he refuses to sell bread to his son's accusers. In a tone of absurd rancor and mocking exaggeration the film examines the boiling feud and delightfully stereotyped townspeople as they square off with one half of the town boycotting the other. Final peace is restored only when the son returns on leave and marries the "unfortunate" girl.

ADD BEST-DRESSED

Four members of the ADD group swept all the prizes at the BERA Masquerade Dance, February 13.

Gordon Danby took the prize for the most original, Gertrude and Bill Walsh were the best couple, and Ray Abbott wore the funniest costume.

RAMPAL & VEYRON-LACROIX

Rampal & Veyron-Lacroix, the flute-piano duo from France, will give a concert at Brookhaven on March 10. They are on their first major tour of the United States this season, although they have been impressing Europe for thirteen years. We have been awaiting their press notices in this country, however, and they started coming in last week after the duo appeared in a Town Hall program honoring Handel. The NEW YORK TIMES had this to say:

M. Rampal plays a golden flute and one is tempted to say he also has a golden tone; but such a term might not do full justice to the roundness and warmth of the sound that emerges from his instrument. Never once was it shrill or piercing, and even in the swiftest passages it always had the sort of fullness that allowed one to hear the whole note.

Since he is also a musician of distinction and a secure technician with an apparently unlimited supply of breath, it was always a pleasure to hear him.

M. Veyron-Lacroix had less chance to shine, since the harpsichord parts tended to be subordinate. But he, too, was clearly a finished musician with a superb sense of style. And in the B flat major Concerto one was repeatedly impressed by his assurance, rhythmic firmness and power to achieve variety of color and expression without fussing around with many different registrations.

M. Veyron-Lacroix will be performing on the piano at Brookhaven, but this will make little difference. The concert will be held in the Research Staff Lounge at 8:30 p.m. Single admission will be $2.00 for adults and 75¢ for children.

BNL SAFETY RECORD

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

7 Days Since Last Disabling Injury (Feb. 17, 1959 - Feb. 23, 1959)

Our third disabling injury this year occurred on February 16th. A machinist was disabled for the greater part of last week as a result of injuries suffered when a piece of steel stock fell off a work bench and struck him on the leg.

PLAY READING

There will be a reading of the play "HOBSON'S CHOICE" - a play whose title became an idiom in our language - on Wednesday evening, February 25 at the home of the Stoenners, 4 Hallett Court, Blue Point. All are invited; curtain at 8:15 p.m.

Driving Instructions: Turn south from Montauk Highway onto Blue Point Ave., turn right onto third street after the L.I.R.R. overpass. Stoenners' house is sole house on left side of street.

BOWLING BITS

WEDNESDAY: MAGGIOS

The Ptuis still have a very slight lead but seem to be dropping fast. Even Bud Pollock, doing his best, couldn't hold them together as the Chain Gang took them for three points. A. Brems lead the winners with a 197, backed up by Meyn's 180, 173 and Mailes' 172. For the losers R. German had 170, R. Taylor 169 and Bud Pollock 164, 163.

The Phoubars after losing four points last week certainly began to move as they took four points away from the Designers, also rolling a nice 950 game. By doing so the Phoubars moved into second place and the Designers dropped to third. The sparked big gun for the Phoubars was reliable Red Gardenier with a 223, 575 series, backed up by T. Marrion's 193, 561 series, OLe's 192, 528 series and R. Brown's neat 213. For the losers Rocklein had two 190's but not enough to help the team. L. Chirco had 179, J. Cuccia 178 and E. Sperry 174.

The Fiscal team seems to be a new team as they also have started to move up. They downed the ADD Techs 4 to 0. H. Bolin had 201, 519 series and R. Brouwer 170. The losers didn't have anything to speak of. —D. STELMASCHUK

LADY KEGLERS COLUMN

The tie for 2nd place has been broken, with Odds & Ends coming through with a complete victory over the Biology team with the help of G. SIEMEN's 193 - 487 series, and Helen Kelly's 466 series. Health Physics lost 2 to Chemistry, with Dot Carpino nudging the team along with a 161 - 459 series. Frisbees took 2 from Nightingales, which narrows the lead on 1st place down to 2 games. Allthumbs took 2 from Medical.

The 1st four places in the league are only 2 games apart from each other, and, as we roll merrily along, starting our 4th and final round next week, just about anything can happen, short of hair pulling and general chaos.

League honors thus far:

High Games - Chris Podlaski, 202

High Series - - - G. Siemen, 515

I. Reilly, 497

High Average - - - G. Siemen, 152
