CHARLES F. DUNBAR, JR. TO PRESENT TALK ON IRAN

A lecture on contemporary Iran will be given by Mr. Charles F. Dunbar, Jr., in the Lecture Hall on Wednesday, July 28, at 3:30 p.m. Mr. Dunbar is a member of the Foreign Service of the U.S. Department of State and is stationed at Isfahan, Iran, as Vice Consul. He will discuss what he describes as Iran's unsteady drive toward modernity and the significance of the Shah's "revolution." This will be an excellent opportunity to share in the interesting opinions and experiences of a young career diplomat in the Middle East.

CHILDREN'S SUMMER PROGRAM

The on-site children's Summer Program opened on Wednesday, July 7. Thus far, over sixty children have registered for the play sessions and have taken part in a wide variety of activities. Group games, ping-pong, tetherball, arts and crafts, and quiet games are part of the daily program. Each Friday is a Special Event day. Last week's specialty was a crazy hat contest. Gail Kurath won first place for the most original headpiece, Johann Hellestrand took first place for the craziest, and Victoria Brody captured the award for the most beautiful hat.

Next week's Special Event will be a wheels parade. Prizes will be awarded for the most uniquely decorated object on wheels. All children are invited to submit their bicycles, wagons, doll carriages, etc.

BERA FILM SERIES ANTIGONE

Plus Special Short Feature

Thurs., July 22 — Lecture Hall — 8:30 p.m.

A Greek company has taken a great play and made a lucid and beautiful motion picture out of it. This is Greek drama as one has always hoped to see it performed — the action simple and uncluttered, the characters driven by instinct and passion, the voices so eloquent that we experience the beauty of the language. For the first time, we have a screen version of a classical Greek tragedy that is faithful to the plot and text, preserving the strength and nobility of the conception. Irene Papis is a magnificent figure as Antigone, daughter of Oedipus, the woman who defies the kingly authority of her uncle Creon when it outrages her feelings and her sense of justice and obligation. For his performance in the film, Manos Katrakis received the Best Actor Award at the 1962 San Francisco Film Festival.

The adaption and direction are by George Tzavellas, who shows love and respect for his material. There are no easy spectacular effects but, as Penelope Gilliatt observed at the Berlin Festival presentation, "there are moments, like the shot of Plynices' corpse lying small and dangerous in the sun, that extend the poetry as only film can." The English subtitles by Noelle Gillmore should make most other subtitlers blush; they are a model of taste and literacy, a demonstration that subtitling can be a branch of the fine craft of translation.

—PAULINE Kael

"Tzavellas has brought forth the surging emotion of this ancient drama with fluid staging and fine photography. He

AROUND THE BASE PADS

By: Bob Carciello

With two home runs, Bill Brown led the attack for the Potsareebies as they encountered the amazing Mixups in a wild slug-fest. The Pots won 16-13. They executed five double plays in this game, which may well be a DP record for a seven-inning slo-pitch softball contest. Joe Hansen belted one of his tape measure homers as the Phoubars broke the jinx with the Odd Balls by downing

CHESS, PASSIONATE PASTIME

By Hans Richter; Vincent Price, Narrator

The narrator states, "Like music, painting, poetry, women, wine and gambling, chess is a passion." This delightful film follows the whole evolution of the game, the figures that have captured the imagination of king and commoner, medieval lovers and the elders of Washington Square.

"Like Ravel contemplating a Spanish or Viennese idiom, Richter contemplates the ancient game of chess — with humor, irony and always with the knowledge that beneath the surface manifestations is something very serious indeed. A brilliant and altogether delightful tour-de-force from the master cine-magician of them all." —HERMAN WEINBERG
Film Critic

"A pictorial, colorful synopsis of chess history which every chess player should see." —AL HOROWITZ them 13-9. Both the Pots and the Phobars remain deadlocked for the Laboratory League lead and could wind up battling right down to the final game of the season, which will pit them against one another.

It looks as if the Blue Jays are on their way to their fourth straight pennant this year. They upped their record to 10 and 1 by crushing the Atom Rays, 18-2. Looking back over the records, this seems to be the first season that the Birds have had to fight hard for the championship. Of the ten games they've taken this year, six were won by one run and, in at least three cases, in extra innings. Metallurgy moved into second place by defeating Cosmotron 17-9, while Medical edged Dirty Sox, 11-9.

There was very little action in the National League last week. The Backbones forfeited to the Braves, and the Bubble Boys forfeited to the Tritons. The Old Timers continued their torrid pace by notching their ninth victory in a row, smashing the Floorwalkers 18-3. Skelly Frei smacked out a home run. It's interesting to note that four more games remain to be played by the Old Timers, and, if they continue their streak, they'll be guaranteed at least a first place tie with the Braves.

BRIDGE GROUP

The Hospitality Committee's Women's Bridge Group will meet again on Tuesday, July 27, at the Brookhaven Center from 8:00 to 11:30 p.m.
