Biomed-Engineering Study Group Formed

On March 1, 1972 Laboratory Director Maurice Goldhaber invited a number of BNL staff members to serve on a Biomedical Engineering Study Group, whose primary function . . . will be to identify specific areas of research in Biomedical Engineering that are particularly appropriate for Brookhaven and in which the Laboratory can excel." Non-laboratory personnel will be added to the group shortly.

Dr. Goldhaber encouraged the Study Group to enlist BNL staff interest and participation, as well as participation by non-BNL university and medical center personnel, and to act as an advisory body for scientists wishing to initiate work in Biomedical Engineering.

The members of the Study Group are R.B. Aronson, Medical; S.H. Cohn, Medical; G. J. Dienes, Physics; F.B. Hill, DAS; M. Hillman, DAS; C.P. Hohberger, Instrumentation; D. J. Metz, DAS; A. Peskin, Applied Math; J.S. Robertson, Medical; D.G. Schweitzer, DAS; H.H. Smith, Biology; L.G. Stang, Jr., DAS; R. Steele, Biology; H. Susskind, DAS; and G.W. Wheeler, Accelerator. D. J. Metz will serve as Chairman.

The Director expressed the Laboratory's indebtedness to the group for its efforts to stimulate increased effort at BNL in a most important field and his expectations that its continued efforts will be fruitful.

It is expected that the Study Group will complete its investigation in one year or less, at which time the need for a continuing committee will be examined.

Cinematic Program For French Group

The French film Pickpocket will be screened at Berkner Hall, next Monday, March 20, at 8:30 p.m. This film, directed by Robert Bresson in 1959, is a portrayal of a young thief's anguish, solitude, and discovery of love. Martin Lasalle, a non-professional actor who resembles a young Henry Fonda, plays the title role, and Marika Green, described in pre-Women's Lib days as a "pretty sex kitten," is the girl he loves.

Bresson's passion for authenticity is exhibited in the settings - the streets, cafes, and stations of Paris - and in some of the sequences that are virtually a documentary on the art of picking pockets. Out of "glances, hands, objects," the director fashions a portrait of a single human being whose essential mystery remains his own secret. Bresson is well-known for a number of films, among them Une Femme Douche, A Man Escaped, Balthazar, and Mouchette.

Pickpocket is a film that has had an important influence on several Nouvelle Vague directors, notably Jean-Luc Godard and Louis Malle. Writes the latter: "The appearance of Pickpocket is one of the four or five major events in the history of cinema."

The French Group of BNL, sponsors of the film showing, invite all members of the Brookhaven community to attend. The admission charge for those who are not members of the French Group will be $1.50.

Central Islip Nurses At Medical

Cooking Exchange

The next meeting of the Cooking Exchange Group is Thursday, March 23, from 3 to 5 p.m., in the Recreation Building in the apartment area. Indonesian cooking will be the specialty of the day.

There is a charge of 75¢ per session for each person attending to cover the cost of recipes and for the babysitters.

Seminar At Stony Brook

On Friday, March 17, Professor Giuseppe Caglioti will deliver a seminar entitled "On Neutron Spectroscopy and Lattice Dynamics" at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. Coffee will be at 3:30, and the seminar itself will be given at 4:00 p.m. in Room 301 of Old Engineering Building #11.

Professor Caglioti is Director of the National Commission for Nuclear Energy in Ispra, Italy, and Professor of Nuclear Engineering at the Enrico Fermi Institute Polytech of Milan.

Ice Follies Tickets

Discount tickets for the Ice Follies at Nassau Colliseum are available at the Recreation Office. A $1 saving on ticket prices is in effect for April 12, 13, and 17 through 20.

IAEA Job Openings

The latest batch of IAEA short-term job descriptions in a number of fields and in various parts of the world, are now posted at the Office of Scientific Personnel, 40 Brookhaven Ave.

FAS Meets Today

The Brookhaven Chapter of the Federation of American Scientists will meet in Room "C" of the Cafeteria at lunchtime on Thursday, March 16th. A committee which is developing elements of a proposed energy policy statement will report to the Chapter membership at that time. All interested BNL'ers are invited to participate in the subsequent discussion.

A Secretary Is . . .

by Bernice Petersen

N.Y. Times, March 6, 1972 —

The State Department has opened a diplomatic campaign within its own walls to raise the status of secretaries and persuade their bosses not to regard them as housekeepers, office wives, or "go-fers."

Once upon a time a secretary was a "confidant, one entrusted with secrets, the understanding of mysteries, or the like," and, of course, he was male, but Webster's New International Dictionary (1956) now lists this definition as obsolete. Then, in order of importance, we have the secretary of a corporation, an officer of state such as the Secretary of State, War, etc. Then we come to that definition most commonly linked with the word secretary today, "one who writes, esp. that dictated by another. Amanuensis." The only think after that is a desk, sometimes known as a secretary.

If we go to Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary (1970) - which is somewhat like going from The New York Times to the Daily News - the second definition on their list is "one employed to handle correspondence and manage routine and detail work for a superior."

Now, to get all the definitions out of the way, the National Secretaries Association (International) says a secretary "shall be defined as an executive assistant who possesses a mastery of skills, who demonstrates the ability to assume responsibility without direct supervision, who exercises initiative and judgment, and who makes decisions within the scope of assigned authority."

They are short and tall, bright and dumb, young and aging. They have developed a "stenographer's spread" or are endowed with an eye-boggling shape. They encompass all the human characteristics and, for some years, they have been lumped into one category, namely, "secretaries." They are now, mostly female. According to the Bureau of Labor, there are three times as many women as men employed in a clerical capacity.

All of a sudden there is a drive to upgrade this person who has labored under many labels over the years, "the office wife, Tillie the Toiler, and just plain, the girl." Whether she is fresh out of business school, or has been handling an office for many years, she still comes at the tail end of the hierarchy.

There is a growing catalog of complaints in the field and the murmur of the crowd can be heard at the gates.

With the advent of typewriters, men must have decided that this was a hell of a boring way to earn a living and, as the little woman was then striving to get out of the kitchen, she was allowed to take over this chore. Though, of course, even this innocent way of becoming independent was tantamount to becoming a scarlet woman.

The job of secretary is very often just considered a way station, a place to keep a young girl occupied until she can nab a man and retire from the scene. If marital bliss does not come her way, or if other circumstances decree that she keep on working, she rarely goes on to any other classification - once a secretary, always a secretary - no matter what competence she may have exhibited.

Date Changed For Final BERA Concert

Contrary to prior announcements, the final concert of the season will be held Tuesday, March 28, at 8:30 p.m. in Berkner Hall. By way of an additional change, harpsichordist Albert Fuller will be joined by violinist Stanley Ritchie.

Albert Fuller

Albert Fuller, who is already known to BNL audiences, is recognized as one of the most distinguished solo keyboard performers of our time. He has appeared repeatedly in the major concert halls of Europe and the United States. Mr. Fuller is a member of the faculty of the Juilliard School of Music.

Stanley Ritchie, violinist, a native Australian, was named winner of the Australian Broadcasting Commission Concerto Competition in 1957. He first came to the United States in 1959 and shortly thereafter began several years of teaching and performing at Brandeis University. In 1962 he began appearing as concert master and soloist with many orchestras in the New York City area; shortly thereafter, he was made concert master of the New York City Opera Orchestra, and then in 1965 concert master of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra. He is now the concert master of the Musica Aeterna Orchestra, with which he has also performed as soloist.

The program at BNL will consist of works by Couperin, Rameau, Bach, Corelli and Mizat, for both violin-harpsichord duo and solo harpsichord.

A Secretary

A secretary can be a wide eyed graduate starting out in the typing pool, or the right hand of a President. The great majority fall in the "good and faithful servant" category. They are usually responsible to one man, and sometimes to one woman, known as the "boss."

In these circumstances, she can thrive or founder, depending on a combination of her own ability and the personality of the boss. In the course of her career, she may shuttle from boss to boss, always in the name of advancement, and a chameleon-like quality becomes an asset. In addition, an ability to keep her mouth shut and her eyes open is indispensable.

Though good legs never hurt any woman, some women even like to use their brains and will do so, if given an opportunity. Secretaries tend to be looked at askance if they venture so far afield. There are differing degrees of ability in any occupation and secretaries are no exception. Many women, though capable of really assisting the boss are used as typists only, a means of getting information down on paper quickly and in a readable form. Though flying fingers tend to keep the hands slim, they don't exercise the brain.

The secretary in many offices is considered part of the typewriter. They are both inanimate objects, except when called upon to run for coffee or perform other little housewifely chores.

If it is acknowledged that she has a life outside the office, it is never supposed to come into conflict with anything going on from 8:30 to 5. Emergencies are permitted, but rather grudgingly. Men may come and men may go, but women stay put.

If she acts with some authority, she is "bossy" and "throwing her weight around." She must always tread the fine line of being knowledgeable about the work involved, but acting as a ventriloquist, speaking not for herself, but for another. Many people insist on going to the boss, even though the secretary can take care of the problem. There seems to be a built-in anxiety about taking a secretary's word for anything.

However, no matter how it turns out, it is comforting to know that the National Secretaries Association now has under construction in Albuquerque, New Mexico, a retirement center for elderly and needy secretaries. If all else fails, she can always sun herself in that nice, dry climate and know that NSA, if not heaven, will protect the working girl.

IBEW To Meet March 23

Local 2230 IBEW will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 23 in the K. of C. Hall, Railroad Avenue, Patchogue. There will also be an afternoon meeting at 2:00 p.m. for shift workers in the Union office at 31 Oak Street, Patchogue. On the agenda will be regular business and the President's report.

Stony Brook Events

A performance by a black dance troupe, a foreign-policy talk by Chile's United Nations ambassador, and a review of oriental studies by one of the world's leading scholars in the field are among events open to the public this week at the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

Friday, March 17

"Eggs," an exhibition of photographs by students of Lester Lefkowitz, continues today in the Stony Brook Union Buffeteria, through Thursday, March 23.

Today is the last day for registration for Craft Shop classes, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., in Room 049 of the Stony Brook Union.

Saturday, March 18

Young Joon Kim will give his master's degree recital in a performance of works on the bassoon, at 8:30 p.m., in Lecture Center Room 105.

Monday, March 20

The George Faison Universal Dance Experience, a black dance troupe whose work is intended to include social commentary, will give a performance at 8:30 p.m. in the Stony Brook Union Auditorium. New York Times critic Clive Barnes called the Faison company "strong and gutsy." Stony Brook's Center for Contemporary Arts and Letters sponsors the appearance.

Professor Robert Anderson, author of "Party Politics in Puerto Rico" and former Dean of the Social Sciences Faculty at the University of Puerto Rico, will discuss future U.S.- Puerto Rican relations, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 231 of the Stony Brook Union.

"Logic" is the topic in David Benfield's continuing series on ancient and modern techniques on logical reasoning, at 5 p.m. in Lecture Center Room 101.

Tuesday, March 21

Professor Francis Palmer, Stony Brook's Provost for Educational Research and Development, continues his lecture series, "Human Development: The Preschool Years," at 5 p.m. in Lecture Center Room 103.

An exhibition of photographs by student Carl Flatow opens today in the Stony Brook Union Art Gallery and continues through March 24, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Wednesday, March 22

Dr. A.A. Townsend of Cavendish Laboratory at Cambridge University discusses "Turbulent Boundary Layers Inside and Outside the Laboratory" in a Mechanics Department Atmospheric Science Seminar at 3 p.m. in Room Y-102 of the Light Engineering Building.

Dr. John Gibbons of Oak Ridge National Laboratory speaks on "Resource Management: A Move Toward Social Optimum" in a Physics Department colloquium at 4:30 p.m. in the Physics Building Lecture Hall Room 137.

Professor of English Martin Stevens continues his lecture series on Chaucer, at 5 p.m. in Room 135 of Social Sciences Building "A." "Literary Alchemy: The Second Nun and the Canon's Yeoman" is the discussion that concludes his segment on "The Canterbury Tales."

Dr. William Theodore DeBarry, Professor of Oriental Studies and Provost of Columbia University, discusses "Oriental Studies in Higher Education in America," at 4:30 p.m. in Room 103 of the Lecture Center.

Thursday, March 23

The International Film and Lecture Series presents the Hon. Humberto Dias Casanueva, Chilean Ambassador to the United Nations, to discuss "Chile's Foreign Relations" at 8 p.m. in Room 110 of the Lecture Center.

Distinguished Professor of English Alfred Kazin continues his lecture series, "20th Century Literature," at 5 p.m. in Room 102 of the Light Engineering Building.

Dr. Hans Bethe of Cornell University, winner of the 1967 Nobel Prize in Physics, talks about "Neutron Star Matter" in a Physics Department colloquium at 2 p.m. in the Physics Building Lecture Hall Room 137.

The Center for Continuing Education's film series continues with "Winter Wind," directed by Miklos Jansco, and "George Dumpson's Place," a film about an artist/hobo who creates an environment out of what seems at first to be a junkyard. The showing begins at 8:30 p.m. in Room 100 of the Lecture Center.

Dance Fills Gym

Close to 400 turned out last Friday for the BERA Country Western Dance. They came in all sorts of garb - dungarees, straw hats, wild shirts and mini-skirts. If the yardstick for a successful dance is a full dance floor - then the dance was a hit. The Country Boys had them swinging to Country Westerns half the time and Rudy Franklin had them Square Dancing the other half. One fellow was heard grumbling "I don't have time to rest."

As always the Camping Club did an outstanding job with their decorating efforts and were given a deserved round of applause. Ken Doughty (Dance Chairman and MC) credits the affair's success to his committee members John Jenny, Elton Tank, Stanley Sajnicki, Robert Lundgren, Kenneth Riker and John Eriksen.

The numbers for the lucky prize winners were picked by Lorraine Pietro who deserved a prize for her appearance. The excitement around the band stand at prize time unfortunately caused us to let the winners escape before we had all the info we wanted.

We know Mr. Shapiro from Physics won the Stage Coach - but not his first name. We know the Rib Roast was won by a Suffolk County Policeman, but not his name. The Chuckwagon of Cheer was won by an employees guest, Mr. Barton of Mastic.

Dance Pictures - So many employees have asked to see the pictures taken at the dance that we've made special arrangements. A display of the photos and the negatives will be at the Film Service Office in the near future. You may stop by and order any size or quantity you wish. Call Susie for information, extension 7221.

Who's going to present the next dance? How about your Department! Call the Recreation Office for details.

Bowling News

Grace Fales

Green League

Highs for the week of 2/29 were: S. Kiss 217, C. Bohlenblusch 203, R. Jones 202, R. Brown 222, W. Crockett 213. High series was W. Crockett's 560. Last weeks highs were G. Guydish 233, G. Meinken 200, S. Kiss 202, W. Kollmer 202, and R. Meier 221. High series went to G. Guydish with a 561.

Pink League

Again this week team standings remain very close. Sue Munsterman gained "Honorable Mention" with a 142, which helped to move the Spares back into 2nd place. Also bowling well were: Mary Austin 161, Kay Hunt 162, Jo Gazzola 164, Renie Rosati 170, Helen Caisey 181/500, Marge Stoeckel 185/525, and Grace Fales 188/535. High game for the evening was bowled by Eleanor Murgatroyd with a 200 even.

Black and Blue League

With the help of Helen Caisey rolling a 180/474 and Allan Diebel a 191/183/514, the Caisey Cats made a clean sweep again this week and seem well on their way to making their first place status a sure thing. The only other action worth mentioning was Ben Belligan 200 and the Murgatroyd clan - Dick 213, Rick 191 and Ellie 163. Honorable mention this week to Scott Spencer and Barbara Murgatroyd who shocked the bowling world by rolling 136.

No Squares At This Dance

"All go left!" says the caller as one of the popular square sets gets under way.

And - the lucky winner is Mr. Barton! Lorraine Pietro (who drew the lucky number) was not part of the prize package.

Dressed up for the occasion and ready to dance are these happy people.

Drawing for the top prize - a chuck wagon filled with goodies - was the charge of Mable Evans and Edwin Taylor.

Volleyball News

Odelli Ozer

Except for two games which were postponed from January 17, the Mixed League season is finished. The Gotcha's who dominated the League from the start, finished in first place in spite of injuries to Pete Hlavac and Marvin Drake. Much of the credit for their success is due to the consistently good play of Helen Connell, Pat and Jim Price and Marlene Cowan.

Possession of second place will be decided after the postponed Jets/Trolls game and it will either go to this season's surprise team "the Boomerangs" or will be shared by the Jets and Boomerangs.

The Mixed League is planning to continue its activities with a post-season tournament among four teams representing (roughly) the departments of Applied Science, Biology, Physics and Phys. Review.

The Championship of the Men's League will again not be decided until the Spikers/Cool Tools game on Monday, March 20.

Standings as of March 10:

Mixed League
	Won	Lost
Gotcha's	18	1
Boomerangs	13	7
Jets	12	7
Trolls	7	11
Active Sites	4	16
Spikers	4	16
Men's League
Spikers	12	0
Cool Tools	11	1
AEC	6	6
Chemistry	6	9
Set Ups	7	11
Atom Spikers	4	8
Particle Detectors	2	13
