

Season's Greetings

On the Front Page . . . Eat, Drink and Be Merry!

As you sit down to your traditional family meal this holiday, think about the digestive juices inside you that are rolling up their sleeves and preparing to set to work on whatever gourmet delicacies come their way.

Among these workaholics is the digestive enzyme trypsin — which is also the subject of protein crystallography studies being done by Paul Singer and Robert Sweet, Biology, along with Lonny Berman of the National Synchrotron Light Source (NSLS).

The patterns of light and dark adorning the decorations on the front page of today's Bulletin are really x-ray diffraction patterns of trypsin, which the researchers made using the white-beam Laue technique at the NSLS.

They provide a new way for the Bulletin staff and Alan Schmidtchen, Photography & Graphic Arts Division, who did the graphic design, to wish all BNLSers "Seasons Greetings" — and "Bon Appetit" for the gastronomical delights ahead!

Weathering Climate Variations

Carbon dioxide is building up in the earth's atmosphere. To predict the consequences of this increase, groups of researchers around the world have built a variety of computer models simulating processes that control the earth's climate. However, it is necessary to check the accuracy of the models. One way is by subjecting them to sets of mutually agreed on tests to assess their predictive capability.

At the Fourth Annual Climate Model Intercomparison Workshop held at Brookhaven on December 3 and 4, participants compared model variations resulting from differing methods of modeling ice and snow.

The attendees came from Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, the People's Republic of China, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union, the European Centre for Medium-Range Weather Forecasts, and universities and government agencies across the U.S. Among them were (from left) Michael Richards, U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) Office of Health and Environmental Research; Bernard Manowitz, BNL's Department of Applied Science; Gerald Potter, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory (LLNL); and (back, right) Robert Cess, State University of New York (SUNY) at Stony Brook.

The participants also identified a need for additional fundamental research on the atmospheric water cycle to give a broader base of observed data to constrain the models. This will lead to better predictions of the effects of carbon dioxide on climate.

Future model development will be assisted by a new DOE computer program that will include improved hardware and new algorithms permitting more complex models to be evaluated, and by data that will be supplied by the DOE Atmospheric Radiation Measurement program.

Cosponsoring the workshop were the DOE Program for Atmospheric and Climate Research, the Institute for Terrestrial and Planetary Atmospheres, SUNY at Stony Brook, and the Program for Climate Model Intercomparison and Diagnostics at LLNL.

Cafeteria to Get New Dishwasher

The 20-year-old, 21-foot-long dishwasher used in the Cafeteria survived its last major breakdown with assistance last spring from Central Shops Division personnel. But now, that old workhorse is about to wash its last dish.

A new, 22-foot-long machine will be installed beginning on Thursday, January 3. During the five-day installation, one-time-use plates, eating utensils and cups must be used.

Unless unexpected problems arise, regular dishes, glassware and utensils will be returned to service on Tuesday, January 8.

ADDing to BNL Service

United Way Goal: So Far . . . Yet So Near

At the end of the three-week United Way Fund Drive, generous members of the BNL team have already put $86,000 on the scoreboard.

Now, the game is going into overtime, as Betty Pergan, Bldg. 179B, stands ready to receive any further contributions that will help score the goal of $100,000. If you have forgotten to make your usual donation, please send it in — your gift may make the difference between closing or keeping open a service for Long Islanders in need.

Last week's prize winners from the drawing sponsored by the United Way Fund Drive Committee for early pledge donors were: retiree Walt Tucker, who won a turkey; Sandra Asselta, Physics, whose name was drawn for a gift certificate for Smithaven Mall; Elizabeth Mogavero, Physics, who will enjoy a dinner for two at South Shore Restaurant; and Rosalie Piccione, Contracts & Procurement, who gets a weekend in Atlantic City.

The committee sends many thanks again to Associated Universities, Inc., Local 2230 IBEW, and the Long Island Guards Union No. 37 for their generosity in funding the prizes.

New Deadline For Dental Plan

Because of the Christmas holidays, the enrollment deadline for the AUI Dental Assistance Plan has been extended to Wednesday, January 2.

Coverage will be effective January 1, 1991, through December 31, 1992. Regular Lab employees who work 20 or more hours per week are eligible. Employees currently enrolled in the dental plan will have their coverage automatically continued unless they complete a termination form.

Employees wishing to enroll must complete application and payroll deduction forms, available from Personnel Services. Please direct any questions to Personnel Services, Ext. 2877.

Waste Oil Disposal

Waste motor oil may be brought to the Friendly Auto Service Station on Technology Street only Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Do not leave waste oil at the station when it is closed.

The waste oil must be in closed, leakproof containers, which must be left inside the station. Station attendants will dispose of the oil.

Waste oils, as well as batteries or any other automobile parts, must not be left anywhere else on site and must not be deposited in any waste containers on site.

Touch Football Champs

Aerobic Dance & Stretch Classes to Start

It's time to think about burning off those extra calories put on during the holidays — so join the Aerobic Dance Club in January 1991.

Instructor Pat Campbell will lead two different courses of exercise:

- Stretch classes involve floor exercises to lengthen, tighten and relax various muscles groups of the body.
- Aerobic dance classes emphasize cardiovascular fitness through low-impact, choreographed movements combining calisthenics with dance.

Classes in aerobic dance will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, at the Recreation Building in the apartment area, while stretch classes will be on Mondays at the Physics lounge, Bldg. 510. Classes run from 5:15 to 6:15 p.m., and mats are recommended for both.

Either or both classes may be taken, and each ten-week session of aerobic dance or stretch costs $30, payable at registration preceding the first classes:

- Stretch — Monday, January 7.
- Aerobic Dance — Tuesday, January 8, and Thursday, January 10.

For information, call Pat Campbell, Ext. 3483, or Janet Sillas, Ext. 2345.

Holiday Happenings

Look for Santa (Fire-fighter Rich Richard) and his elf helper (Sergeant Chuck LaSalla) when they make their rounds of the Lab's offices today around 1 p.m. At about 4 p.m., they'll take BNL Fire Engine #2 to visit the children in the apartment area. As usual, they'll be handing out candy canes — compliments of the Fire & Rescue Group.

Today is the last day of the Winter Holiday Sales at the Science Store. The store is open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and it's still stocked with a good selection of intriguing, inexpensive, science-oriented gifts. The Science Store is on the west side of Bldg. 701; please park in the north parking lot. For more information, call Ext. 4495.

In addition, page 24 of the Employee Guide contains information regarding possession of licenses, as well as traffic rules and regulations for both private and government vehicles operated on site.

Coming Up

"Children of Divorce" is the next topic to be addressed in the Outreach workshop series sponsored by BNL's Employee Assistance Program. The lecture will be presented by Arline Glassel, M.S.W., on Tuesday, January 8, from noon to 1 p.m. in Berkner Hall.

Weight Watchers returns to BNL in 1991, thanks to the Health Promotion Program of the Occupational Medicine Clinic. Two sessions of eight-week classes will be offered: one at lunchtime on Mondays (or Tuesdays, when Lab holidays fall on Monday), and the other after work on Wednesdays.

Both BNL employees and their dependents are eligible to attend for the reduced fee of $62. Registration will take place at the first classes: for the noon-1 p.m. sessions, on Monday, January 14; for the 5-6 p.m. group, on Wednesday, January 16.

A smoking-cessation workshop given by the American Lung Association will also be offered after work by the Health Promotion Program in January. Open to Lab employees and their dependents, the four-week program will start on Monday, January 14, from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

It will cost only $30 per person, as the Lab will split the cost with participants; sign up before January 7 by contacting Health Promotion Specialist Mary Wood, Bldg. 490, Ext. 5923.

Placement Notices

The Laboratory's placement policy is to select the best-qualified candidate for an available position. Consideration is given to candidates in the following order: (1) present employees within the department/division and/or appropriate bargaining unit, with preference for those within the immediate work group; (2) present employees within the Laboratory; and (3) outside applicants. In keeping with the Affirmative Action plan, selections are made without regard to age, race, color, religion, national origin, sex, handicap or veteran status.

Each week, the Personnel Division lists new placement notices. The purpose of these listings is, first, to give employees an opportunity to request consideration for themselves through Personnel, and, second, for general recruiting under open recruitment.
