Just Some of the Faces Here at Brookhaven Lab

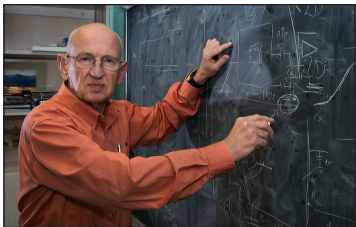

Brookhaven Lab and the frontiers of scientific discovery — what an exciting place to work. The photos on these pages, with a few exceptions, were taken from Bulletins of the past five years, following the 60th anniversary publication Faces (<http://www.bnl.gov/60th/faces.asp>). We crammed in as many people as possible, but unfortunately couldn't begin to fit everyone.

Placement Notices

The Lab's placement policy is to select the best-qualified candidate for an available position. Candidates are considered in the following order: (1) present benefits-eligible employees within the department/division and/or appropriate bargaining unit, with preference for those within the immediate work group; (2) present benefits-eligible employees within the Laboratory; and (3) outside applicants. In keeping with the Affirmative Action Plan, selections are made without regard to age, race, color, religion, national origin, sex, disability or veteran status. Each week, the Human Resources Division lists new placement notices, first, so employees may request consideration for themselves, and, second, for open recruitment. Because of the priority policy stated above, each listing does not necessarily represent an opportunity for all people. Except when operational needs require otherwise, positions will be open for one week after publication. For more information, contact the Employment Manager, Ext. 2882. Access current job openings on the World Wide Web at www.bnl.gov/HR/jobs/.

To apply for a position, go to www.bnl.gov. Select "Job Opportunities," then "Search Job List."

In Appreciation

FROM LIZ SEUBERT TO BULLETIN READERS – You've been great. The new "news at the Lab" plans, "Brookhaven This Week" and "Brookhaven Digest" will be great too, and will gradually develop their own personality.

RE: THE ADS! BNLers on site will be able to see the ads either on their Lab intranet homepage or printed as part of Brookhaven Digest.

From off site, you will be able to see the ads by signing up for the weekly email to be sent out to all who ask for it, through the Brookhaven Retired Employees Association (BREA, see notice above, right). You don't have to be a BREA member to sign up for this email, but you must have an email address (not necessarily your own). If, like me, you are still somewhat in the dark ages with regard to computers at home, you can get your family and technical friends to help you. Offer them chocolate or other fine bribes and ask them to receive the ads in their own email, which can come in on their computer, laptop, iPad, or even their smart phone. Then they can show you all the marvelous bargains that you used to see in the Bulletin, only you'll see them earlier, not two weeks late by snail mail.....

If you are not a computer person, to find out about lectures, concerts, etc., you can ask the same family members and friends to receive the new "Brookhaven This Week" and then show it to you. This weekly email will link to the interesting research and events happening at the Lab. If your grandchildren are receiving it for you, you may find they get interested in science through helping you see what's going on. Look on the bright side!!!!

I plan to retire in early January, but until then, please contact me with any questions at Ext. 2346 or lseubert@bnl.gov.

– Liz Seubert

Changes Coming for BNL Communications

Starting Next Week, New Newsletters Will Replace The Bulletin

The final edition of Brookhaven Lab's weekly newspaper The Bulletin is today, Friday, November 30. In its place, the Lab will publish a new weekly email newsletter called Brookhaven This Week and, for employees without work computers, a printed newsletter called Brookhaven Digest, which both will communicate information about the Lab's cutting-edge, award-winning scientific research as well as upcoming public events.

Brookhaven This Week will provide the latest information in a timelier manner than a

Current Lab staff will be subscribed automatically.

Retirees and others who had The Bulletin mailed to them: Don't miss the scoop! Please sign up for Brookhaven This Week right away or as soon as you can to keep up with the exciting breakthroughs and events happening at Brookhaven Lab. Sign up at <http://www.bnl.gov/newsroom/thisweek/subscribe>.

Retirees and Readers of the Ads: This Is for You!

Message from Dave Cox, BREA President

In this final issue, the Brookhaven Retired Employees Association (BREA) would like to gratefully acknowledge what a vital role the Bulletin has played over many decades in providing retirees with news about the Laboratory and their old colleagues. We will all miss the weekly arrival of that familiar envelope in the mail!

Keep in Touch

BREA will continue to send out a quarterly printed newsletter to all our members, so if you would like to join the Association and keep in touch this way, please visit our website: <http://www.bnl.gov/bera/activities/brea/default.asp> and download a membership application form, or contact our membership secretary, Carmen Benkovitz, directly at 12 Sandy Drive, Smithtown, NY 11787.

And whether you are a member or not, please feel free to contact me by e-mail at brea@bnl@aol.com if you have any questions or would like to add your e-mail address to our files.

Thanks for the Memories

In this, the last issue, Editor Liz Seubert, Assistant Editor Joe Gettler, and Photographer Roger Stoutenburgh thank all concerned with the content, production, and delivery of the Bulletin for their invaluable contributions, some this past year, some for many years. We share so many memories: squeezing in an important late-breaking story, waiting breathlessly for an impossible after-the-deadline photo op that can just make it; holding the press for a hideous error spotted in time to make a new plate; working somewhat uneasily through the (quite frequent) times when everything seems to be going smoothly (What are we missing? Can this be true?) — with all of us relying on each other to put out the best publication we can. Thanks, everyone.

"Everyone" includes: Jen Abramowitz, Glenn Abramowitz, Kelly Backofen, Rick Backofen, Louisa Barone, Charles Barrett, Gloria Bennett, Cindi Biancarosa, Tiffany Bowman, Natalie Crnosja, Kay Cordtz, Diane DiBlasi, Ray Dumont, Justin Eure, Dawn Farrell, Patricia Flood, Jerry Gaeta, John Galvin, Peter Genzer, Jim Green, Diane Greenberg, Michael Herbert, Kevin Hester, Cornelius Jackson, Lisa Jansson, Lauren Jarrell, Terry Jones, Jane Koropsak, Louanne Ligon, Barbara Mack, Karen McNulty Walsh, Bonnie Miller, Louvania Minter, Dorothea Nash, Darlene Peragine, Alyssa Pilkington, Alex Reben, Mona S. Rowe, Joseph Rubino, Sue Runkowski, Will Safer, Regalado Sanchez, Nick Statt, Gary Schroeder, Mary Turner, Tina Walsh, Chelsea Whyte. Other people who have joined in providing content and general assistance in all sorts of ways are too numerous to mention, but all these contributions have been most sincerely appreciated.
