

Darbari

a Dinner-Concert featuring
the Court Music of India

Saturday March 27, 2004

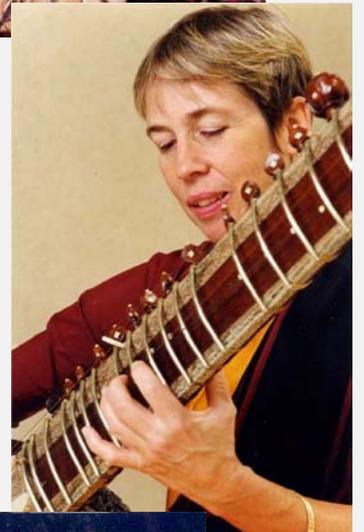

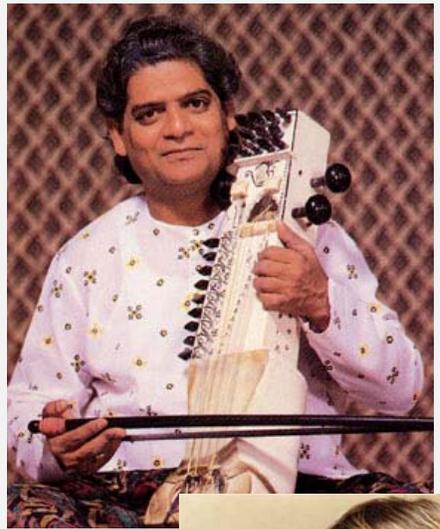

5:45 PM (Dinner) 7:30 PM (Concert)

Berkner Hall Auditorium

Brookhaven National Laboratory

Presented by BERA-Indo American Association

Co-sponsored by Asian Pacific American Association

Ramesh Misra - Sarangi
Allyn Miner - Sitar
Steve Gorn - Bansuri Flute
Samir Chatterjee - Tabla

The Darbari, a four-person ensemble, performs Indian classical ragas in an interactive style, seamlessly blending the distinctive sounds of the melodic instruments – sitar, bansuri flute, and Sarangi. A combination of innovative and traditional rendering is energized by the rhythmic mastery of Pandit Samir Chatterjee.

Pandit Ramesh Misra and Pandit Samir Chatterjee, two of the most prominent Indian musicians living in the west, are joined by Allyn Miner and Steve Gorn, who have both received critical acclaim in India and the west for their subtle and skillful performances of Indian music.

Admission (includes dinner):

$30*: Adults; $10: Children age 5-12

$20*: Full-time students (age 12+), post-docs & senior citizens (65 & over)

* Tickets will cost $5 more if purchased after March 25, 2004

All visitors age 16 and over must present a photo ID to enter the laboratory

Tickets available at BERA Sales Office (631-344-3347), or contact:

Achyut Tope: (631) 344-5672 (tope@bnl.gov)

Kumi Pandya: (631) 344-7734 (pandya@bnl.gov)

Abhay Deshpande: (631) 344-8783 (deshpande@bnl.gov)

Ila Campbell: (631) 344-2206 (ila@bnl.gov)

For more info: <http://geocities.com/TheTropics/Harbor/1595/iaaEvents.html>

For directions: <http://www.bnl.gov/bnlweb/maps.html>

For info on Darbari: <http://www.sas.upenn.edu/~aminerv/darbari.html>